District to Back Water Bonds

FORECAST OF

Also Predicted

The board of directors of the Orange county water district undoubtedly will give its support next Wednesday to the county water program and the $6,620,000 bond issue proposed to help finance the project.

This belief was expressed today by C. A. Palmer, secretary of the board. He said the group will meet next Wednesday afternoon at Garden Grove and at that time will be expected to go on record as favoring the bond issue. This issue of bonds would be the county's share of financing the program, which will have a total cost of $12,994,000. The program provides for a dam on the Santa Ana river near Prado, and for works on other streams.

In Board's Hands
It has been approved by the chief engineer for the United States army, and has been sent to the allotment board for its approval. It then will go to President Roosevelt.

In discussing the program today, Mr. Palmer called attention to the fact that the county water district recently was instrumental in promoting agreement of water interests in regard to the project. Paul Bailey, consulting engineer for the district, contacted these interests and learned that they wished assurance that their present supply of water be undisturbed. (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

"Want a free farm?"

Recently, in a story on page one, The Journal asked that question.

Mrs. Don L. Davis of Stanton told The Journal's Swap column she'd give the use of her farm land to whomever wanted it.

Here's the result, told in a note from Mrs. Davis:

"On Wednesday evening the article about the land was published. Thursday bright and early, one of our local men was here to see about it, having 'read' it in The Journal."

"Since that time, there have been five others who were anxious to have it. Also, I have had two letters from people who

Standardization is Answer to Valencia Granulation Problem

Because of the widespread interest in excessive citrus granulation this season and the threatened disastrous results, The Journal has asked Holmes Bishop, widely known grower and student of marketing, to write a series of articles which discuss causes and effects and the way to avoid more serious difficulties before it is too late. Mr. Bishop's first article follows:

By HOLMES BISHOP

Speaking in plain words, the Valencia orange growers are taking on a case of "jitters." It probably is a good thing even if it should prove to be a case of crossing the bridge before coming to it. The season of 1933 is not so far in the past, nor has it been followed by sufficient prosperity to have dimmed its unhappy finale.

That season may be likened to standing on a cliff, when suddenly a landslide toboggans you to the bottom. If you are fortunate enough to survive, you are naturally somewhat nervous when a like circumstance appears.

In some respects the present conditions are very much like those of the early fall of 1933. Two things differ. The first is that in the fall preceding 1933, which was 1932, we experienced one of the worst winds of many seasons, which caused excessive scarring of fruit. Some critics claimed this was the real cause for market decline, but it was not the reason the buyers in the eastern market cut the fruit before buying. It did have a bearing on alternaria, or heart rot, which will be discussed later. The second difference is that, being prepared by experience, we have no excuse for another such occurrence.

However, as in 1933, there is developing (Please turn to Page 5, Col. 2)

Pestilence Feared As Recovery Of Florida
Bodies Starts

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 6. (AP)—The possibility of pestilence—eternal aftermath of wholesale death—confronted authorities today as the task of finding more bodies in Florida's hurricane-ravaged Keys went laboriously forward.

Like a wartime corps combing a battle zone after a big drive has passed on, gas-masked armies of rescuers penetrated the lower Keys, made a shambles by last Monday's hurricane.

Their job was to recover more bodies of war veterans who perished when the storm raged through their FERA camps. Already, the Red Cross estimated, the death toll is 256.

Funeral pyres burn in the desolate spots where the veterans were struck down on the Keys.

To Burn Bodies
Red Cross headquarters here received word late this afternoon that Gov. Dave Sholtz had authorized cremation of the bodies of storm victims still in the stricken area.

Earlier, Governor Sholtz had said:

"If the state board of health reports it necessary, we must have quick disposal of these bodies—and if necessary they must be burned, however much we regret to take this action."

The question of whether the veterans had needlessly died—whether they might have been safely evacuated if warned sooner of the coming hurricane—enmeshed officials in a welter of arguments.

Florida State Attorney G. A. Worley began an inquiry into alleged delay of a train sent into the Keys Monday night to evacuate the veterans.

TWAY IN NEW
SERA POSTSanta Anan Named Head Of Organization In San Diego County

William J. Tway, Santa Ana, today took the helm of the State Emergency Relief administration in San Diego county.

Mr. Tway for the past several weeks has been field representative for the SERA in the southern district. Prior to that time he was head of the works division of the Orange county SERA.

The San Diego county SERA organization is the fourth largest in the state, having a case load in excess of 10,500.

News of Mr. Tway's appointment was received at the local SERA offices here. He will fill the position at San Diego formerly held by John Bacon. Mr. Bacon recently was appointed to the staff of the Works Progress administration at San Francisco.

Mr. Tway was connected with the Civil Works administration here, the organization which preceded the SERA in handling the unemployment situation. Prior to that time he was in the lumber business in Santa Ana.

SHIPS' CREWS
END STRIKE

Dollar Liners Will Sail
Shortly After One-Day
Walkout By Workers

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6. (AP)—Crews of the Dollar liners, President Coolidge and President Pierce returned to their posts today after a one-day walkout, and the vessels will sail as soon as cargo is loaded, the marine department of the chamber of commerce reported.

It was reported the shipping company had not acceded to purported demands of the striking crewmen.

At the same time, seven other ships were tied up in Pacific Coast ports in alleged "direct violation" by union men of last year's arbitration awards. They were the Golden State, West Mahwah, Point Ancha, Iowan, Manukai, Teacina and Point Clear.

Crew members abandoning the ship's ventilating system was faulty. The President Pierce strikers had demanded dismissal of George Keenan, head steward, charging he permitted serving of improperly prepared food.

Longshoremen quit work on both vessels shortly after the crews walked out, explaining they were unable to work the ships since there was no steam to operate the winches.

5 ARMY BOARD
POSTS FILLED

Vacancies on the advisory board of the Salvation Army, created recently when eight members tendered their resignations, were partially filled today by the appointment of five new members.

Announcement of the new appointments was made by Capt. Claude W. Gallipo of the Santa Ana branch of the Salvation Army.

The new board members are L. A. West, H. C. Head, W. B. Helms, W. D. Ranney and Mrs. L. F. Moulton.

In a report made to the board when they met in Army headquarters this morning, Captain Gallipo indicated that the relief load in Santa Ana has greatly decreased. He said that in August the load was 60 per cent less than it had been during the peak months of December and January indicating that people are finding employment.

'Program Substantially

'BREATHING SPELL'

Conditions Favorable to Widespread Recovery,
Asserts Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 6. (AP)—President Roosevelt today declared the New Deal's "basic program" had reached "substantial completion" and a "breathing spell" for industry "is here—very decidedly so."

He asserted further that at this moment conditions are such as to offer "substantial and widespread recovery."

The President gave his views in a letter to Roy W. Howard, publisher of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, who reported fears of business men and asserted, "there is need to undo the damage that has been done by misinterpreters of the New Deal."

'We Have Helped'
In perhaps his most complete exposition of his administration and his ideas for the future, the President said he claimed no "magician's wand," but "we do claim that we have helped to restore that public confidence which now offers so substantial a foundation for our recovery."

"I take it," he wrote, "that we are all not merely seeking but getting the recovery of confidence, not merely the confidence of a small group, but that basic confidence on the part of the mass of our population, in the soundness of our economic life and in the honesty and justice of the purposes of our economic rules and methods."

Mr. Howard discarded hostility from "financial racketeers, public exploiters, and the sinister forces spawned by special privilege," but asserted that many business men of "patriotism and sense of public service" believed the wealth tax bill "revenge on business," and expected a "recess from further experimentation until the country can recover its losses."

Disregards Skeptics
Mr. Roosevelt replied that he would disregard "skeptics" and "those actuated by a spirit of political partisanship," but he believed it a "duty to clarify our purposes" to "critics who are honest and non-partisan and who are willing to discuss and to learn."

In San Francisco today, ready to sail on a world voyage Mr. Howard said:

"Business now has the answer to the question it has been asking for months."

"I think the statement speaks for itself. The President states very unequivocally that the basic program of the New Deal is now complete and that the promised 'breathing spell' is here."

"It is obvious business has got to interpret this as meaning the period of experimentation is past, and with the action of the last congress out of the way it can go forward."

"And it looks to me as if business has got to interpret this as meaning the period of experimentation is past, and with the action of the last congress out of the way it can go forward."

CHAVEZ PLANS
VISIT HERE

U. S. Senator Dennis Chavez, Democrat, of New Mexico, will arrive in Santa Ana tomorrow to spend several days with his cousin, N. D. Meyer, local attorney.

Senator Chavez, who was appointed to the senate following the tragic death of Senator Bronson M. Cutting last May, was in San Diego today participating in the New Mexico celebration at the exposition.

One of Albuquerque's most prominent lawyers, Senator Chavez served one term in the house of representatives before entering the senatorial race against Senator Cutting. In the final ballot he was defeated by 1000 votes.

When Senator Cutting was killed in an airplane crash at Macon, Mo., Governor Tingley of New Mexico appointed Mr. Chavez to fill the uncompleted term.

Orange Boy, 15, Born Deaf, Hears Mother's Voice First Time by Radio Ear-Set, a Gift

Robert Weibrecht, 15-year-old Orange boy, experienced the greatest thrill of his life this week. He heard his own voice and his mother's voice for the first time. Born deaf, Robert had experienced only the tender ministrations of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Weibrecht, until an invention of modern science lifted him into a new world of sound.

Robert's experiences and the joy in the Weibrecht household were related yesterday by the Rev. Robert E. McAulay, president of the Orange Rotary club, at the club's weekly luncheon.

During the customary fun-making period during the luncheon, "President Bob" had been rather generous with his fine levying.

"Probably you fellows would like to know where some of this fine money goes," he commented. "Well, I'll tell you of one instance."

Then he told them about Robert Weibrecht. Always interested in boys and their welfare, the club had been advised of the misfortune of the Weibrecht lad and of recent experiments with a radio ear-set which indicated that while there was a defective connection between the inner ear and the brain, certain radio vibrations had registered in a way that convinced observers that his hearing might not be permanently dead.

So the club took some of the fine fund and purchased an improved device as an aid to hearing and presented it to Robert.

"We haven't been able to take it away from him since it arrived," Mrs. Weibrecht told President McAulay.

Observers described the great wonder that was reflected in the boy's face when first he heard his mother's voice. And then his father's voice. He did not know what the sounds meant. He had learned lip reading early and with it had made four grades in school in four years. But sounds meant something.

Now he is beginning to associate sounds with lip movement and is learning to make them himself. His mother understands his feeble attempts to talk and he thrills himself as he hears his own voice. Very soon, his family believes, his speech will be perfected.

A letter to the Orange club from the grateful mother told in impressive detail of the new and wonderful experience that has come into her son's life.

"Live and help live," is one of the teachings of Rotary.

SIX TRIED AS CITRUS GROUP
POLYGAMISTS NAMES HEAD

Group From Tiny Arizona
Town Face Law's Arm
For Practice

SHORT CREEK, Ariz., Sept. 6. (AP)—The law came into this remote little settlement today to enforce the statutes that decree no man may have more than one wife.

Six persons were scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace J. M. Lauritzen late today for preliminary hearing on charges of living in a state of polygamy.

The defendants, I. C. Spencer, Silvia Alred, Bruce Johnson, Helen Hull, Clarence Alred and John Y. Barlow, are specifically charged with "open and notorious cohabitation," a felony.

Court action against the six members of the United Order of Brethren has stirred Short Creek to its depths, for heretofore the little community has had few contacts with the outside world. Located as it is in the almost inaccessible Arizona strip, Short Creek has kept its affairs to itself and the law has failed to touch those who follow polygamy as a part of their religious belief.

Members of the order moved into the Arizona strip many years ago when the Mormon church eliminated polygamy from its belief and the state of Utah enacted laws forbidding the practice. Most of the members of the order, according to officers of the Mormon church, have been excommunicated from the church.

Plans were also announced to construct a building for the exchange in Placencia on property between the Placencia Mutual and Placencia Orange Growers packing houses. Application has been filed with the California exchange for membership, and the new organization will be operating Nov. 1, it is announced.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 6. (AP)—President Roosevelt announced today the veto of nine more bills, including the Pierce irrigation bill extending government loaning facilities.

Mr. Roosevelt also vetoed bills providing for federal cooperation with the school districts of Trenton, Williams county, and Porcupine, Sioux county, North Dakota, for extension of public buildings to be available for Indian children.

PEACE ERA IS FIXED

Commission, Claim

GENEVA, Sept. 6. (AP)—The League of Nations council today appointed a subcommittee of five countries, France, Poland, Great Britain, Spain and Turkey, to deal with the Italo-Ethiopian dispute. French delegates said this action implied there would be no hostilities while the subcommittee was at work.

The council voted unanimously to create the committee, with Italy abstaining. Baron Pompeo Aloisi, chief Italian delegate, walked out of the public session of the council when the question came up and his vote was counted as one of abstention.

Makes Stand Clear
The Italian representative made it clear both to the press and to the members of the council the last 24 hours that he would not participate in council discussions with the Ethiopians but that he would do so with other members of the council. He applied this statement by walking out of the public sessions both yesterday and today.

Salvador De Madariaga of Spain was elected chairman of the subcommittee when Tefvik Rustu Aras of Turkey, previously agreed upon, withdrew in favor of the Spaniard.

Apparently the agreement indicated the withdrawal of the Italians from a reported position that Italy should be included in such an important body, in view of the fact that she, like Great Britain and France, is a signatory of the 1906 Ethiopian treaty.

It was understood that Baron Pompeo Aloisi, the chief Italian delegate, had approved the composition of the subcommittee, although he might abstain from voting on it when the question came before the league council.

In Private Session
The council approved the project of a subcommittee in a private session. Baron Aloisi, despite unsubstantiated rumors to the contrary, was present in the inner room. Also present was Teclé Hawariate, the Ethiopian chief delegate.

Just before the session opened, an Italian spokesman said that (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

'DOGNAPING' HERE DENIED
'Sam Is Mine', Asserts Man

It wasn't a "dognapping" at all, J. E. Duskey, 806 East Fourth street, said today.

Yesterday J. J. C. Robinson, who gave his address as 718 East Second street, accused a man "in shirt sleeves" of "dognapping" Sam, black German shepherd dog, as the dog was carrying home its supper, at Second and Lacy streets.

Today Mr. Duskey came to The Journal office and said that Sam is his dog and that he didn't put the animal into his car. When he drove up beside Sam, the dog jumped on the running board and rode home, Mr. Duskey said.

It happened this way, Mr. Duskey recalled: Ten days ago he put Sam in Mr. Robinson's care, with the understanding that the latter would keep him until Mr. Duskey could locate a place to live in which he could keep a dog. Having located such a place, Mr. Duskey went in search of Mr. Robinson, but failed to find him at the address the latter had given him, he said.

Later he said he saw Sam and Mr. Robinson on the street and located his address. Wednesday night, said Mr. Duskey, he drove up beside Mr. Robinson and Sam, told the man the dog belonged to him, and when Sam jumped on the running board, took him home.

A report on file at the police station said Mr. Robinson called there at 3:50 a. m. today and asked officers to get Sam for him. He was advised to see the district attorney.

COUNTY FARM CENTERS FOCUS ACTIVITY ON WATER PLAN SUPPORT

EXCLUDING OF REPORTER IS EXPLAINED

Statement Issued Today
By Flaherty; Program
Gets Entire Backing

Most of the farm centers in Orange county are rearranging their Sept. meeting programs so they can make the county water program the dominant topic. Roland D. Flaherty, farm bureau secretary, told of these plans today following the vote of the farm bureau board of directors yesterday to support the water program bond issue. The board voted unanimously to back the bond campaign, at a meeting yesterday, from which newspaper reporters were excluded.

The decision to back the bond issue was made after a talk by Supervisor William Smith of Orange, who explained the status of the water project, which is now awaiting approval of government financial aid, by the allotment board at Washington.

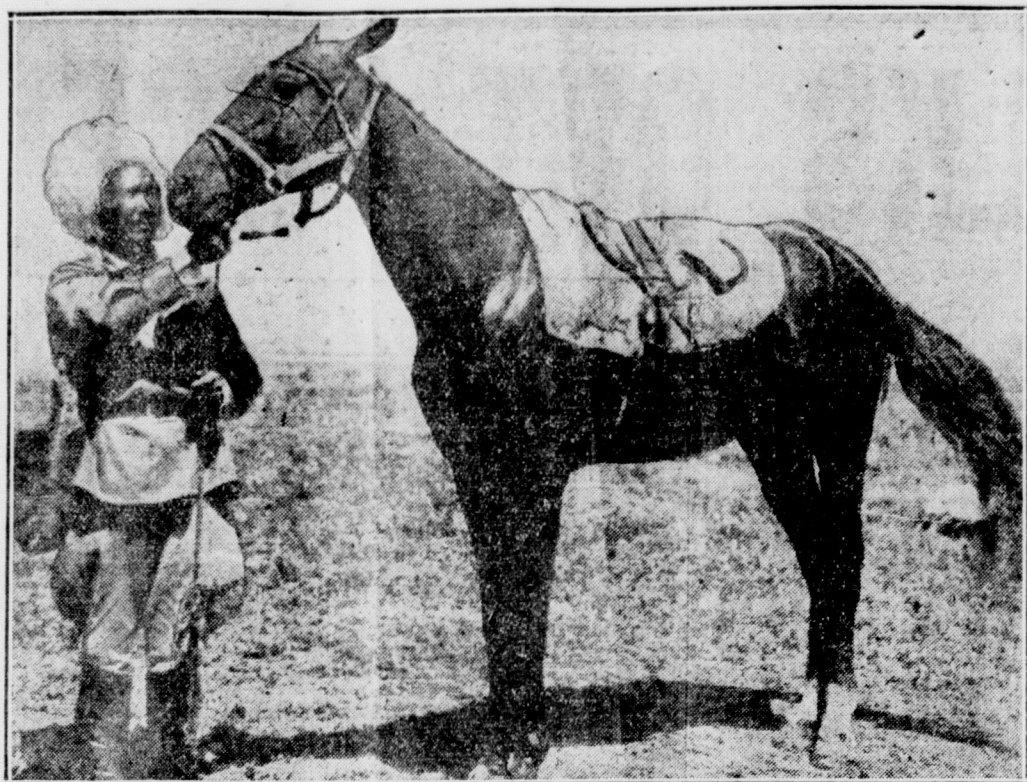

Issue Statement
Mr. Flaherty's office today issued a written statement regarding yesterday's episode in which a Journal reporter was refused permission to listen to the board's deliberations on the water matter. The reporter explained to the board that his newspaper wished to give a first hand account of the discussion in view of the fact that the farmers and general public will be called upon to vote the water bonds. He said he believed such first hand accounts would eliminate unavoidable misunderstandings and misinterpretations which might result from securing information of the board's action second hand.

The statement issued by Mr. Flaherty's office follows: "Yesterday there appeared in some of the papers of Orange county a statement to the effect that the board of directors of the Orange county farm bureau did not permit newspaper reporters to sit in their sessions. We feel as long as this matter had been given wide publicity that the position of the organization should be clearly and concisely stated. The farm bureau is not a secret organization. Its general membership meetings are open to the public and insofar as we know no reporter has ever been requested to leave such a meeting. However, the meetings of farm bureau committees, departments and board of directors are meetings of representatives of our farm centers or membership groups. They are together to work out specific policies for the organization and to carry on projects which the members develop. Approximately 150 men and women are serving on these various committees and departments throughout the county and receive no compensation for their services. The farm bureau is supported entirely from the dues of its members and does not receive one cent of compensation from any public source.

Members May Attend
"Therefore, the organization feels that in the development of policies which necessarily from time to time, require a frank discussion of confidential information concerning policies of marketing organizations and feelings for and against such policies of the organization, that freedom of discussion among these representatives of the people was the first requisite towards getting all of the facts out so that a sound and practical policy could be developed and followed by the organization. On questions of controversial nature, of the organization, these matters are taken back to farm centers and other groups of officers for further discussion. While newspaper reporters are not permitted in these officers' meetings, any member of the farm bureau is always permitted to attend these meetings if he desires.

"In making this statement we want to say that we appreciate the importance of newspapers in getting information to the people and we have always tried to cooperate as fully as possible with the newspapers of Orange county. We believe that our policy in this instance is fair and in the best interests of farmers of this county and feel that in this respect we are much in the same position as a private business or a newspaper organization itself which does not publish in its columns the different opinions of the stockholders and officers of the newspaper on public questions, but merely publish their final conclusions."

LEGION SETS DATES FOR TWO DANCES

Two dance dates were set by the American Legion Auxiliary drill team last night for Oct. 12 and Nov. 27 at the meeting of the Auxiliary in Veterans' hall.

Convention reports were made by Mrs. A. E. Eklund and Mrs. Ralph Hoover, and an appropriation was made for the rehabilitation of hurricane victims in Florida.

Officers elected at the meeting of juniors in the afternoon included Phyllis Sandon, president; Mary C. Hoover, first vice president; Mary Alice Eklund, second vice president; Marjorie Johnson, secretary-treasurer; Mabel Louise Castex, chaplain; Barbara Montgomery, musician; Shirley Leimer, sergeant-at-arms; Mary Juden, marshal.

Sept. 19 was set as the date of installation for the juniors, to be followed by a weenie bake at the D. M. Jellis home, 1209 West Highland. Senior members are invited to attend.

A count of the hurricane victims at one general morgue and funeral homes in Miami totaled 132. Of these, more than 100 bodies remained unidentified.

The Red Cross made these estimates: 320 persons missing in Florida; 144 bodies recovered; 375 of 817 veterans known to be alive; 256 dead.

MORE ABOUT ETHIOPIA

Italy's objections to the Ethiopian activities in the league had been largely overcome by a decision on the part of Ethiopia definitely to make Hawariate its official delegate.

The Italian added that Italy was especially incensed because yesterday's attack in the council on Italy had been delivered by a non-Ethiopian, Prof. Gaston Jeze, a French lawyer.

Allosi and a substitute walked out of the league council yesterday when Professor Jeze answered Italy's previous charges that "Ethiopia is a savage nation," by declaring "Italy treats Ethiopia like a mad dog."

He said that if an Ethiopian had made the same statement, it would not have the same importance. It was indicated that Jeze probably would continue to speak at council meetings, but always as a substitute for Hawariate.

UNION URGES AGGRESSOR BE PUNISHED

GENEVA, Sept. 6. (P)—The executive committee of the International Federation of Trades Unions unanimously adopted a resolution today urging that the League of Nations apply "the whole covenant, including sanctions," against the aggressor in the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

The committee planned to send a copy of the resolution to the American Federation of Labor, with an appeal for cooperation by union men in the United States.

An attempt is to be made to present the labor resolution to the council of the League.

EXCLUSION OF ENGLAND FROM EGYPT HINTED

ROME, Sept. 6. (P)—The semi-official journal, Azione Coloniale (Colonial Action), stated today that Italy will demand the exclusion of Great Britain from Egypt if Great Britain poses the question of Italy being a threat to the British Empire by going into Ethiopia.

"If Italy's presence in East Africa is recognized as damaging to the imperial interests of England," said Azione Coloniale, "the same thing must be admitted for Britain's presence on the seas and coasts in bases within the imperial Italian sphere."

"Egypt at Alexandria, Egypt, is as dangerous as Italy in Addis Ababa."

"Aden, Malta, and Gibraltar are a menace for the Mediterranean. Cyprus and Haifa are a danger for Rhodes."

"For our security, we can very well demand Great Britain's exclusion from Egypt."

ABBOTTBAD, British India, Sept. 6. (P)—Five persons including three British soldiers, were killed and 30 injured today by the explosion of a bomb which was being unloaded from an army plane. Two airplanes were destroyed in the subsequent fire.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN DEATH CRASH

Joe Morales, driver of a truck that assertedly caused the death of R. C. Gordon in a crash Aug. 10, last, pleaded not guilty to a charge of manslaughter today when arraigned before Presiding Judge James L. Allen in department 2, superior court.

Morales' trial was set for Sept. 30 before Judge G. K. Scovel in department 3, superior court.

ness can be counted upon now to go ahead and play ball."

Informing Mr. Howard that the "breathing spell" of which he spoke is here, the President stated:

"It is a source of great satisfaction that at this moment conditions are such as to offer further substantial and widespread recovery."

"Unemployment is still with us, but it is steadily diminishing and our efforts to meet its problems are unflagging."

Mr. Roosevelt declared the newly enacted tax program "is based upon a broad and just social and economic purpose."

He stated it "affects only those individual people who have incomes over $50,000 a year and individual estates of decedents who leave over $40,000" with adjustment of the corporation tax "to the generally accepted fact that larger corporations enjoying the advantages of size over smaller corporations possess relatively greater capacity to pay."

Business Men Convinced
To the report of Mr. Howard that business men "are convinced and sincerely believe" that the administration has "side stepped" broadening the tax base to the extent necessary to approximate the needs of the situation," the President replied:

"The broadening of our tax base in the past few years has been very real. What is known as consumers taxes, namely the invisible taxes paid by people in every walk of life, fall relatively much more heavily upon the poor man than on the rich man."

"In 1929, consumers' taxes represented only 30 per cent of the national revenue. Today they are 60 per cent, and even with the passage of the recent tax bill the proportion of these consumers' taxes will drop only 5 per cent."

"This administration," he continued, "came into power pledged to a very considerable legislative program. It found the condition of the country such as to require drastic and far-reaching action. Duty and necessity required us to move on a broad front for more than two years."

"It seemed to the congress and to me better to achieve these objectives as expeditiously as possible in order that not only business but the public generally might know those modifications in the conditions and rules of economic enterprise which were involved in our program."

"Breathing Spell"
"This basic program," however, has now reached a substantial completion and the "breathing spell" of which you speak is here—very decidedly so. x x x

"I do not claim that government alone is responsible for these definitely better circumstances. But we all know the very great effect of the savings of banks, of farms, of homes, the building of public works, the providing of relief for the destitute, and many other direct governmental acts for the betterment of condition."

"In the large," Mr. Roosevelt wrote, "the depression was the culmination of unhealthy, however innocent, arrangements in agriculture, in business and in finance."

"Our legislation was remedial, and as such, it would serve no purpose to make a doctrinaire effort to distinguish between that which was addressed to recovery and that which was addressed to reform. The two in an effort

Predicts Other Support
It was found that the board of supervisors was in accord with this position. Mr. Palmer said today he believes the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company will support the water program. Yesterday a resolution by the directors of the Anaheim Union Water company was presented to the board of supervisors.

In the resolution the directors expressed appreciation for "recent action of the supervisors and directors of the Orange county flood control district in recognizing certain demands of the Anaheim Union Water company, Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company and Santa Ana River Development company must be granted to protect the water supply in Orange county and prevent damage to Orange county in building dams across the Santa Ana river."

FILE PETITION ASKING CHANGE IN CAPISTRANO STREET NAMES

SUPERVISORS ARE ASKED TO ACT

New Names Requested For Nearly All Streets In Community

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—A petition bearing over 100 signatures was filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs this morning for presentation to the board of supervisors asking that names of nearly all streets in Capistrano be changed.

Members of the Spanish-California club have been working for some time on the proposed change with the view of preserving all possible atmosphere of their mission pueblo. Historical events and names of prominent families should be on streets, instead of the present names, they have contended. Alfonso Yorba, descendant of one of the early families of the district, has been leader in the move.

Action cannot be taken on the proposed change until next Tuesday, when the supervisors meet. At that time a date will probably be set for hearing of protests on the matter, with a possibility that the county planning commission be asked to consider the matter, it was reported today.

WINTERSBURG CHURCH TOPICS ARE ANNOUNCED

WINTERSBURG.—Services in the Wintersburg M. E. church Sunday will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Joseph Thompson. The topic of the sermon Sunday morning will be, "God, Man's Highest Teacher." Sunday evening, the unifying services will be continued. Theme of the general discussion group will be, "Discipleship," with Mrs. E. M. Fox, leader.

The West Orange County Council of Religious Education met in the Wintersburg M. E. church yesterday afternoon. Following the council meeting members from out of town joined with church members in a pot-luck supper. During the evening a program was presented by council members from Garden Grove. Grover Ralston was the speaker. Instrumental and vocal music was a feature of the evening.

Boy Scout troop No. 41 gave a supper at Irvine park recently honoring the baseball team. Forty-five parents and friends were invited.

The Woman's missionary society will meet Wednesday, September 11, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Murdy. Mrs. Harry Letson will lead devotions and Mrs. Joe Thompson will furnish the program.

SUNDOWN STORIES

CHRISTOPHER REPORTS

By Mary Graham Bonner
"My Crow used to be able to understand him better than I could understand him," the giant continued, still holding Christopher on his shoulder. "But I could do pretty well too. He used to be with me in some of my acts."

"He'll probably want me to go with him, oh dear, oh dear," cawed Christopher miserably.

Please Say Caw
"Don't be frightened, crow. I'm not going to hurt you. Please say Caw, caw in a very low voice so I'll know if you understand that."

"Caw, caw," answered Christopher softly.

"You'll be a great attraction," continued the giant. "You see I'm connected with some side-show people who go around to county fairs. I'm having a walk now but I go back on duty before long."

"The show is not doing well. I am about its only attraction and if you came along you could be featured as the crow-who-understands-every-human-word."

Stuffed Owl
"We have a stuffed owl with two heads, but no one seems to care about it, and we had a few other performers who have just left us."

As the giant spoke now he started to describe the acts to Christopher letting go of him as he did.

"Caw, caw," cried Christopher as he flew up in the air. "I may be back again. I have an idea."

"Come back, oh, won't you come back?" the giant asked.

"Caw, caw," said Christopher. "If it means you will, by any chance, please say caw, caw twice at the top of your voice."

"CAW, CAW," shouted Christopher, and flew back to report to Puddle Muddle.

Brick Dust

By BRICK GAINES

North Orange County: In Anaheim, Dr. J. P. Brastad, reclining at ease between cases. Two-thirds of the fire department, not arguing, for once. The two automobiles, Abe and Red, buying Coca-Cola. Police Sergeant Jim Pifer casting remarks at a reporter about a story. (I told him I was sorry). City Clerk Charlie Griffith. Louis Danz. Virginia Hodges, looking for news. Lots of others.

Fullerton, H. G. Hedden, talking mining with enthusiasm. Harry May, C. of C. secretary, remarking that there was no printable news. His assistant, Katie Smith, seconding the motion. Harry did save the day, however, by remarking that a monologue is a conversation between a man and his wife, with which we agreed. B. K. Maxwell and Russ McComb. News Tribunes. Angus McCaulay, the horse-shoe champ of Fullerton. "Doc" McClelland, who teaches boys to fly model airplanes. Roy Mills, policeman. Judge Spence and his office mate, "Skilly" Skillman, the constable.

Placentia, Ray Easton, probably worrying about growing oranges. Alva Patten, school superintendent, attending to details of schools opening. Also Jack Crossley, school principal. Howard Hawkins, teacher, and Clara Woodward, secretary. "Stew" Strathman, the longest C. of C. secretary. Jim Tuffrey. Rumors of another fishing trip and remarks that "Scotty" Muir had better stay at home. Mrs. Nellie Cline, city clerk. Dr. Ralph Duncan. Arguments on street corners about Art Anderson's shirt. Reports that he lost it, or that it was stolen. Heard that he was "taken for a ride."

Bill Queale, who published the North County Enterprise, is getting happier.

Bill was in a wreck. Was so badly damaged that a complete overhaul was necessary. Feels better now, although still in the hospital. He's nicely equipped with braces, plaster casts and a beard. Be out in three weeks, he says.

His companions in his wreck, Mrs. Stella Grainger and daughter, Ethelyn, both improving rapidly. Good news.

Went back to school yesterday. Learned lots of things from Howard Hawkins, who teaches agriculture under the Smith-Hughes plan.

SURPRISE WEDDING IS ANNOUNCED

GARDEN GROVE.—Coming as a distinct surprise to their many friends in the county, the marriage of Miss Winifred Schneider to Lloyd Manderscheid was announced today. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond R. Schneider of Garden Grove and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Manderscheid of Greenville.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian church in San Diego on Sunday, September 1 at 8 a. m. by the Rev. Tyler, pastor of the church. Miss Elizabeth Keith, cousin of the bride, and Don Cavanaugh, a close friend of the groom, were the only attendants.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Manderscheid are graduates of the Santa Ana Junior college and the bridegroom attended the Santa Ana schools and the bride the schools of Garden Grove. She is now associated with Dr. A. E. Chase of Santa Ana as X-ray technician while he is employed by a steel company in Los Angeles.

MIDWAY CITY CHURCH PICNIC IS HELD AT ANAHEIM

MIDWAY CITY.—The annual picnic of the Community church school was held at Anaheim park Wednesday, with 77 attending. Dinner was served at noon, after which games and sports were arranged for various departments of the Sunday school.

Foot races were the featured sport of the day. In the primary division, Billie Johnson was the winner, and Raymond Nelson carried off the prize in the junior division. Ted Hazard won the one-legged race for junior boys and in the men's foot race, R. F. Hazard was declared winner over C. H. Jones.

in Valencia high school at Placentia.

He's enthusiastic, and after a talk, I could see how. Looks like students who work with him will enjoy themselves. He tells of project work for students. Each will take a plot in father's orange grove, if father has one, and will keep careful track of what is spent, how it's spent, and how much, if any, comes in from fruit. They'll learn about pest control, taking soil samples, pruning, and every other operation in a citrus grove. Also about chickens and maybe even ducks.

But that's not all. They'll belong to the Future Farmers of America, which is a nation-wide club of boys taking Smith-Hughes courses. They'll get their first break Sept. 20 and 21 when they go to Camp Condee at the Pomona Fair. They've already arranged an entry for the fair, too.

Perhaps the idea's a good one, making ranchers instead of bookkeepers out of rancher's sons. They may stay at home.

Honesty in business—two boys selling watermelons. When asked how sales were going, replied, with commendable brevity, "Punk."

Another fish story. This one is second hand, but I heard it from an honest man—a policeman.

Johnny Trezise, Fullerton traffic controller told it and explained where I could get proof. He didn't have time to investigate. He heard it straight from Ed Sullivan, another fisherman, who saw it happen.

A half of a fish won a "pot" on a recent expedition! A perspiring angler in southern waters, he reported, hooked what must have been the grandfather of all Pacific coast tuna. He struggled with the fish for some time, and just as he was about to land the prize, a shark snapped off a good, healthy bite. Even then, the fish weighed somewhere near 25 pounds and won the prize for the day, which wasn't so bad, after all.

Investigated Placentia's new city hall, which is a good one. The council now has a chamber for its frequent meetings. City Clerk Nellie Cline has a nice desk and all the required paraphernalia for city clerking. Chief of Police Gus Barnes is well equipped with all he needs for his police work—except that he hasn't a jail, yet.

I was wise when I told all the officials chorused when questioned yesterday.

FORMER RESIDENTS OPEN STORE AT GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reynolds, former residents here, have leased the W. W. Maxwell store at the corner of Fifth and Stanford avenues and are making extensive improvements, including addition of a fountain. They plan to live in the rear of the store.

Rodney Collins, president, and Merle Boyle of Santa Ana, second vice president of the Orange county chapter of the American Institute of Banking, attended a council dinner of the Los Angeles chapter at the University club recently.

Victor McClain, instructor at the high school, returned this week after spending the summer in San Francisco where Mr. McClain was associated with his father working on the Golden Gate bridge.

Mrs. Donald R. E. Waters and the Misses Ethel Chaffee and Betty Epps have gone to Huntington Beach to spend the remainder of the week. Dr. Waters will join them for the week-end.

Mrs. Eleanor Casady, English instructor at the high school and son, Allen, are expected here today after having spent the summer in South Haven, Mich. Miss Helen Knox of the elementary school faculty, who joined them after visiting in the South and East is returning with them.

Construction of a six-room Monterey style home was started this week by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Andres, who recently purchased two lots on Pine street. A. C. Larson is in charge of the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Haynes and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones left recently for a month's vacation trip in the North. Everett Preston of Downey will be at the Hayes ranch during their absence.

NEW WELL FOR TELL INCREASE BEACH TOLD IN STUDENTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Work on a new oil well drilling project is being started by the Duke and Gates Oil company, with a derrick being erected about 50 feet from the one owned by Baker & Dorn, on Main street near Garfield in the old field.

The new well will be drilled to a depth of about 4800 feet, it is reported.

The Dorn & Baker well is standing cemented at 3274 feet and will be drilled out soon and a water test made.

Owenstein and Withers are fishing for a lost swab at about 2300 feet on the Jackie Coogan No. 3 well on Crystal avenue.

The Standard Oil company has just completed H-8 and H-20 in the town-lot field. The former is making about 40 barrels and the latter about 135 barrels a day.

The company is starting to re-drill H-19, also located near Twenty-third street and Magnolia avenue.

In the Seal Beach field, the Standard has just made a water shut-off at 4975 feet in the deep test well being drilled there.

SAN CLEMENTE SALES SEEN

SAN CLEMENTE.—Plans for a big selling program were revealed here today, with the Capital company, real estate developing subsidiary of the Bank of America, early next week.

L. J. Barrud, subdivision sales director, will be in charge of the San Clemente office, and with him will be a number of crack salesmen, it was reported.

GROVE CENTER WILL MEET

GARDEN GROVE.—Discussion of the county flood control bond issue will feature a meeting of the Garden Grove farm center, scheduled for next Thursday in the Woman's clubhouse.

D. D. Waynick will give facts and figures concerning the project, and other speakers, including engineers and members of the board of supervisors, are expected to be present.

TUSTIN P.T.A. TO EDIT PAPER

TUSTIN.—Members of the Tustin high school P.T.A. will publish one edition of the Tustin News this month to obtain funds for their work. It was decided at an executive board meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. W. Tantling, president.

Mrs. C. A. Day, program chairman, told of plans for the year and her outline was approved by the board. Mrs. J. H. Tankey, chairman of the finance and budget committee, presented the budget for the year.

Also present were Mrs. E. D. Ulrich, Mrs. Mina King, Mrs. S. H. Greenwood, Mrs. E. A. Watson, Mrs. E. R. Byrne, Mrs. Glenn S. Warner, Mrs. D. D. Adams, Mrs. Frank Grisette and Mrs. Robert Korss.

Make This Hairloom Quilt
Flower of Spring

PATTERN 5296

"How fresh and lovely!" would be your instant comment, if you saw this quilt. Flower of Spring, in color. The flower that inspired the design is the anemone, and though it may grow in our garden in spring, still we cherish its beauty all year round. The quiltmaker who has captured it in this design makes this possible for us. Make the flower of white, peach, pale yellow or rose on a light green or blue background—and you'll have a color picture that will prove an unending delight. Even in the making, this quilt is a joy—the block is so easy to piece!

In pattern 5296 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Santa Ana Journal Household Arts Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana.

TELL INCREASE IN STUDENTS

PLACENTIA.—A substantial increase in students for Valencia High school for the coming year has been announced by Principal John B. Crossley, with about 136 students signing up for classes.

Last year attendance averaged 84 students Mr. Crossley said.

Work is being rushed on new buildings for the school, with workmen planning to have three new units ready for occupancy by Sept. 16, opening date for classes.

This year will see students of the three-year-old institution in their own buildings for the first time. Classes were started in the Bradford avenue elementary school, but after a fire destroyed the main structure last October, students were moved to the Calvary church, where the year was completed.

Teachers for the coming year have been announced by A. P. Patten, superintendent of schools. They are Mr. Crossley, principal; Howard Hawkins, agriculture; Emma Danneman, home economics; Harold De Jonge, shop; George Woolsey, science; Herbert Hooper, mathematics; William Purdy, commercial; Martha Stavelly, English, history and music; Doris Redfern, English, art and music; Margaret Varnum, languages; Clarence E. Bishop, athletics; Gerhard Runsvold, music and Mrs. Augusta Day, nurse.

H. B. WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Clubwomen of this community will meet at the Huntington Beach Women's club on Tenth street next Tuesday to open club work for the year.

Mrs. Margaret Colvin, newly elected president, will preside at her first meeting. A luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m. by members of the executive board. Reservations must be made with Mrs. Fred Pickering, secretary of the club and chairman of the luncheon committee.

Elaborate plans are being made to have this year one of the biggest and best in the history of the club. Year books will be issued for the first time in many years.

Miss Hallie Mae Oharr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Oharr, of Long Beach, will sing. Miss Mary Turner and Mrs. Earl Conrad are in charge of decorations.

LEGION HEADS ARE SEATED

ORANGE.—Officers for the coming year were installed Thursday evening at a meeting of the American Legion post. Ben Lieberman, twenty-first district commander, was in charge of the ceremonies.

Officers installed were David Fairbairn, commander; Dayton Ditchey, first vice commander; Herbert Bryant, second vice commander; Edwin Wescott, adjutant; Bob Steele, historian; Clarence Johnson, sergeant-at-arms, and Dr. W. M. Tipple, chaplain.

MARRIAGE OF GARDEN GROVE RESIDENT IS TOLD

GARDEN GROVE.—Word has been received of the marriage of Mrs. Jewell De Pugh of San Bernardino to Louis A. Frink of Garden Grove last Tuesday in Riverside. The couple will make their home at Garden Grove where Mr. Frink has lived for a number of years.

COUNTY'S EXHIBIT AT FAIR IS LURING TOURISTS HERE

Orange county's exhibit at the San Diego exposition is luring travelers to visit this section and see for themselves the orange groves and other attractions which tourists admire. This was revealed in a letter written by Miss Lolita Mead, who is in charge of the Orange county display.

A score of tourists who stopped to see the exhibit in the week ending Wednesday said they planned to come through this county to see orange and avocado groves, or visit citrus packing houses, said Miss Mead's letter. There is no count available on the number who have stopped in the county without telling of their intention to do so.

Among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. John By Boyd of Minnesota, who never had seen an orange or avocado tree and planned to take the 19-mile drive in the vicinity of Anaheim, sponsored by the chamber of commerce there. They also said they hoped to visit a packing house near Yorba Linda.

Prosser, H. G. Baluch of Poona, Bombay, India, was another visitor who expressed interest in Orange county. The list of those who said they planned to visit Orange county includes Mrs. Le Me Surlet of Adelaide, Australia; Mrs. F. W. Drummond, Rochester, N. Y.; Frances M. Tolle, Cleveland, O.; J. E. Jack, El Paso, Tex.; Johnnie Erramuspe, Moreno, Calif.; Jack Paul, Chicago.

S. S. Maulbetsch, Lemoyne, O.; Charles Puse, Millbury, O.; Elaine Norris, Baltimore, Md.; John E. Cressy and Seth E. Cressy, Williamsbury and Charlestown, Va.; Mrs. William Ables, Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dutra, San Luis Obispo; C. K. Carr, Los Angeles; Lee J. Mills, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and E. J. Hancock, Greensburg, Pa. Mr. Hancock said he planned to visit Justus Cramer of Orange.

NEW PICTURES AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH.—A new exhibition of Chinese and Japanese paintings was hung in the Laguna art gallery Wednesday afternoon and is now ready for showing. Hideo Date has seven pictures, "Promenade," "Mademoiselle M.," "In Search of His Dream," "Darting tunicus Californicus," "Petunia," drawing, "Still Life," "Koma Inu," and "Fruit Gatherers," which was loaned by the Los Angeles museum.

Benji Okubo is showing "A Whispered Dream," "The Vision of the Blue Lily," "Mildred," "Beyond the Cloistered Walls of Sacre Coeur," and "Valley of the Golden Mist."

Tyrus Wong is exhibiting "The Begar," T. K. Li, "The Fisherman," "Monkey," "Rock and Water," and "T. W."

RESIDENTS OF MISSOURI VISIT IN OCEANVIEW

OCEANVIEW.—Recent guests at the Roy C. Fox home were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith of Joplin, Mo., parents of Mrs. Fox. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are spending a month's vacation in Long Beach, and expect to return home soon, visiting San Francisco, Yosemite and Salt Lake City.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Kimbly of San Bernardino, who have been spending a part of the summer in Oceanview, left for their home this week. Mr. Kimbly is professor of mathematics in the high school at San Bernardino and Mrs. Kimbly is a teacher of voice and expression.

F. C. Schuth, who has been suffering with blood poisoning in his hand, caused by an insect bite, is much improved.

Mrs. Louis Conradi met with the Dorcas society of the Methodist church in Huntington Beach recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schuth of Long Beach, formerly of Huntington Beach, were recent guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schuth.

The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Iler, who was badly burned when a coffee percolator overturned, is resting comfortably.

TUSTIN CLUB TO PRESENT PLAY

TUSTIN.—"Jonesy," a three-act comedy, will be presented by the Tustin Thespian club on September 27 in the Tustin High school auditorium. It was announced today by Miss Rose Borum, club advisor.

This will be the first three-act comedy given by the Thespians, an organization made up chiefly of students who have graduated from Tustin High school and have been active in the drama department under Miss Borum, local instructor.

WATER TALK HEARD AT ANAHEIM

Chamber Told Water Groups Do Not Oppose County Program

ANAHEIM.—The Anaheim Union Water company will not oppose the county water plan or construction of a high dam at the upper Prado site in Santa Ana canyon, William T. Wallop, county water director and official of the water company, told directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday.

In his own opinion, however, solution to the county's water problem lies in importation of water from the Metropolitan Water district, he said.

Mr. Wallop discussed the four-point program of water guarantees drafted by Paul Bailey, engineer, of the site in Santa Ana canyon, William T. Wallop, county water director and official of the water company, told directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday.

MISSION GROUP HAS MEETING

ORANGE.—The last meeting of the fiscal year, which was also a mite-box meeting, was held by the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church yesterday afternoon in the church parlors.

Officers installed were Mrs. M. L. Smith, president; Mrs. R. R. Riddle, vice president; Miss Bertha Adams, treasurer; Mrs. Charlotte Wallace, recording secretary; Mrs. W. H. Hull, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. C. Patton, I. M. S. counselor, and Mrs. H. Z. Sawyer, mite-box secretary.

I. O. O. F. PLANS FOR ANAHEIM CONVENTION TOLD

ANAHEIM.—A parade to which all county patriotic organizations will be invited will feature the state convention of the Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows, the Patriarchs Militant and the women's auxiliaries, which will be held here beginning Oct. 7, it was announced today.

Date for the parade was set for Oct. 10. Various musical organizations of the county were to be invited today to participate in the parade, which will include many floats and decorated cars.

Committee members in charge of the event are George Reed, chamber of commerce secretary, H. A. Mang, W. E. Mang, C. L. Allen and A. B. Scott.

ORANGE CLUB HAS FIRST MEETING

ORANGE.—The first meeting of the year for chapter I. E. P. E. O. Sisterhood, was held Wednesday afternoon in the Villa Park home of Mrs. O. K. Anderson. Vacation echoes proved the theme, with members reporting where vacations had been spent. The hostess served a Mexican luncheon at small tables, centered with small cactus gardens on pottery dishes.

One guest, Mrs. B. D. Barton, was present. Members present were Mrs. O. K. Dean, Mrs. H. L. Haynes, Miss Shirley Haynes, Mrs. F. M. Gulick, Mrs. H. F. Campbell, Mrs. Ben F. GARDEN GROVE CHAMBER TO MEET

GARDEN GROVE.—Plans for the year's work will be discussed by the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the chamber offices. President L. W. Schauer announced today.

LADIES' NIGHT IS PLANNED BY LIONS AT GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE.—Plans for a "ladies' night" dinner on September 13 were made by Lions club members when they met recently for a steak bake at the home of Rodney Collins. The board of directors headed by the president, C. K. Simpson will make arrangements for the dinner. Pictures taken by J. W. Crill while attending the Lions convention in Mexico City will be shown.

Steaks for the dinner Wednesday evening were prepared by Mr. Collins while his wife and his mother, Mrs. Bertha Collins prepared and served the remainder of the dinner. Present were C. K. Simpson, L. H. Burr, J. W. Crill, Charles Lake, L. W. Schauer, Lester Frink, Dr. J. C. Kraushaar, V. I. Sparks, E. A. Wakeham, R. R. Rossetto, E. O. Fulsom, Robert Smith, H. A. Lake, Vernon Bruderie, D. S. CURTAILMENT PACT URGED BY OILMEN

Leaders Hope to Avert Complete Breakdown in Price Structure

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. (AP)—Hopeful of averting a complete breakdown of price structures, leaders in the oil industry worked with renewed effort today to secure unanimous approval of a new statewide production curtailment agreement.

The Southern California Oil Producers association and the San Joaquin Valley Independent Oil Producers agency were pledged to "use every effort between now and Sept. 9 to secure the required signatures to the producers' agreement."

80 Per Cent Sign
Neal H. Anderson, spokesman for the organizations, said that 451 operators, representing 80.3 per cent of the state's total production, had signed the proposal, and that results of the new curtailment would be made known Sept. 10.

"It is the plan of the committee (in charge) to seek an early date for a meeting with the major marketing companies to report the results of the canvass, ask the marketers to set a date on which the curtailment agreed upon shall become effective, and when curtailment has reached the consumptive demand figure that will be determined to restore equitable prices," Mr. Anderson said.

Attend Session
Operators from fields throughout the state attended an executive meeting here yesterday to discuss the problems, brought about by abandonment of a voluntary controlled production and the subsequent collapse of crude oil prices.

Retail gasoline prices have reacted in scattered instances, some independent oil stations selling at a minimum of 9.9 cents a gallon. The normal minimum, however, was 10.5 cents a gallon.

NURSING BUREAU LEADERSHIP GIVEN TO ANN S. LOCKHART

Directorship of the Nursing Bureau of Orange county has been awarded to Mrs. Ann S. Lockhart, replacing Miss Mable Reid, according to announcement from the bureau today.

Supported by nurses for convenience of physicians and laymen in obtaining adequate nursing service whenever needed, the bureau is located at Stewart drive and Main street in Orange.

Miss Reid is to attend the University of California at Berkeley this year. Mrs. Lockhart was graduated from the University of Oklahoma school of nursing in 1927. She was superintendent of the clinic hospital in Enid, Okla., for two years and has practiced in Orange county for five years. She holds the post of southern chairman of the state committee on public information for the California State Nurses' association.

PROMISES TAX CUT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. (AP)—A reduction in taxes "in the not-too-far distant future" was the prediction left here today by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi. The senator, chairman of the senate finance committee, said treasury receipts during 1935 have exceeded even the most optimistic committee members' hopes.

WAY TO EASE ILLS OF ORANGE GROWERS TOLD BY BISHOP

a late granulation, following a cold winter. This means that frosted fruit has had its bearing on the market. Usually this is the first to be shipped, which leaves the better fruit to go later, and should result in an improved market. With late granulation now setting in, the growers are becoming worried about the results.

Standardization Is Answer

The question is how to avoid a possible landslide. There is only one answer, and that is standardization. It will be the policy in these articles to explain standardization as it affects the marketing of Valencia oranges, and in such terms that it can be readily understood not only by growers, but also by those unfamiliar with its technicalities.

There are two points essential to the effectiveness of standardization. One is the tolerances permitted and the other is the strictness of enforcement. There is now in effect two forms of standardization. Voluntary, or that which is set up and enforced within each marketing group, and statutory, or that established by law and enforced by the state and counties.

Chapman Started It

The first attempt at standardization was undertaken by C. C. Chapman of Fullerton, who established his Old Mission brand in 1895. Having come from Chicago, he had the viewpoint of the business man and consumer, and almost immediately after establishing his uniformity of grade his fruit commanded a premium on the market. Mr. Chapman still believes that his established policy of maintaining a uniform package that gives the consumer confidence in purchasing is the final recipe for success.

It was some thirteen years later, in 1908, that the California Fruit Growers exchange adopted the Sunkist trade name, but enforcement of special standards was not attempted until about 1913.

About this same time deciduous fruit growers were attempting voluntary regulations.

Vital Point Brought Out

This brief history serves to bring out a vital point. Mr. Chapman has had little difficulty putting into effect any regulations he so desired, because he has no one else to consult. A marketing organization has somewhat more difficulty, since it has many to serve; but for an unorganized group such as the deciduous fruit growers it was hopeless. Consequently they sought to establish standardization by law. It was just as radical a departure in 1915 as was the prorate law of 1933.

In most all sessions of the legislature this law has been somewhat changed and enlarged, until it had gradually become a potent factor in the marketing of fruit, and its enforcement is one of the most important problems of the agricultural commissioner's office.

Who then originated fruit standardization? It was the producer. Why did he do it? Because the business men among the producers recognized that the consumer would not buy that which was not reliable. Since the producer must have the consumer, and the consumer the producer, it constitutes an indissoluble partnership. The standards were made by the producer to protect the consumer. The money appropriated for enforcement is considered as consumer protection, and yet the producer protection, which results, is of far greater value, and most growers realize it. That all growers do not come to this realization can be attributed either to a lack of intelligence or downright selfishness.

The theory was discarded long ago that by putting up a superior pack it would not be affected by that which was inferior. Inferior oranges injure the market for oranges, and it does not matter whose label graces the end of the box, nor how important or prominent the personage who greys them. Only last June, when in Sacramento, an acquaintance accosted the writer and asked why they were getting frozen oranges. He said he had been in the habit of buying a box at a time, but had discontinued using oranges. The only answer that came to mind was that since the crop was estimated to have a 30 per cent surplus, they must be shipping the frozen oranges in order that the good ones might drop off, granulate, or be thrown in the river.

In the ensuing articles there will be presented the various phases of standardization, and what they mean, not only to the growers, but to all citizens. This subject is the most important phase of marketing that is facing orange growing, and it does not matter whether it is California, Florida, or intermediate points. It is the key to the success of production, and of fundamental importance in the solution of overproduction.

The consumers' trend away from fat meat is cutting the cost of producing beef cattle, says Earl H. Foster of the University of North Carolina. Animals can be fed on pasture and legumes now, which is cheaper than corn which was necessary for the well-fattened animals.

CHILDREN TO LEARN ABOUT ALCOHOL IN NEW PROGRAM

(Christian Science Monitor)

CHICAGO, Sept. 6. — School children from coast to coast are getting some of their first lessons in alcohol education—learning what the liquid actually is and what it does to the human system. The program, which has spread to 39 states, is an attempt to show the youngsters objectively with little exhibit bottles the effect of alcohol on sugar, resin, egg, meat and other inanimate things, and then to indicate how harmful it is.

It is the first time that teachers in a nationwide program have been approached with these objective lessons which they can teach their children. In fact, teachers themselves have not known much in the past about the results of scientific investigation concerning alcohol. It is found. Though the laws in practically all the states require teaching of the "injurious effects of alcohol, nicotine, and narcotics," this has been more or less from a sentimental basis, if at all, and not along practical ways that children can easily grasp.

The last two generations of boys and girls have come up hearing practically nothing about alcohol, "as such," but seeing and hearing only the manufacturers' side of the "healthful" qualities of beer, and the "advantages" of wine, ale and whisky. Tearing the mask from these products on the market in repeal days and pointing to the alcoholic content of such drinks is part of the aim of the present program.

'POKER FACE' IS SOLVED!

Easy For Lie Detector, Claim

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 6. (AP)—The lie detector detects not lies but only "painful complexes." The "poker face" is its easiest victim.

These and other inside workings of the new robot were given to the American Psychological association here by Dr. Verne W. Lyon of Chicago. He reported on 100 cases where the detector was used on real suspects, all juveniles.

"Did you steal a car?" revealed one "painful complex." The word car reminded the boy that he once put four gallons of gas into his dad's tank when he had received money for five.

To another boy on a similar question, it was the word "steal" that set off an unsuspected painful complex. It reminded him of something he had never told, that he once stole a quarter from his mother.

Other Complications
Other complications indicating something besides guilt were the fears of the innocent, anger, nervousness, bad hearts and recidivism.

Recidivism was the most interesting. It is the name of the habitual offender, with the police record, the one apt to have the

and the Johnnies and Susies are anxious to answer as follows:

"Yes'm, I know, my uncle has some alcohol he uses to clean the grease off his hands."

"My dad mixes it in shellac."

"My mother cleans spots off our dresses sometimes with it."

"But did you know that sometimes people drink it," Miss Palmer then asks.

"Ugh!" comes a united chorus. This is something new to them.

Meat Shrives
Then follows the part of the lesson in which the teacher lists on the blackboard beer, whisky, ale and gin. A test tube of the amount of alcohol contained in one pint of beer is held up, and the audience is surprised to find that this much "injurious" liquid, about four teaspoonsful, is found in what they have heard was a "healthful" drink.

Little bottles are then put before the children in this objective lesson. A syllabus prepared by her on alcohol education has now been officially approved for use by teachers in South Carolina, she said. Copies have been sent to teachers in Missouri and Kansas, with the approval of the state superintendent of public instruction. California, Mississippi and Minnesota have used the syllabus as a basis for information published in the state bulletin on narcotics. Miss Palmer said.

"Some teachers and principals appear indifferent to this teaching until they find out just what it is," Miss Palmer said recently. They are arranged in pairs to show the effect of alcohol on a given item and in another bottle

"poker face." Dr. Lyon said that the "poker-faced" person is the easiest of all to catch on the lie detector.

His outward feelings are so well concealed that they have to break loose inside. "Poker-faced" adults are just as tumultuous inside as the juveniles.

Only 33 Confess
Of the 100 cases all but 20 showed indications of guilt on the lie detector, but only 33 confessed. Forty-seven stood pat despite the detector. Of the 20 whose lie detector records indicated innocence, Dr. Lyon said the police were able to prove positive innocence for seven.

The lie detector record varies for each person, so that Dr. Lyon said, "Each record is almost a personality in itself."

The interpretation is not, as generally supposed, a case of reading big bumps and drops. Nearly everyone shows these large changes normally. Under questioning these normal changes may deviate slightly. The deviations suggest either guilt or innocence.

"The technique," said Dr. Lyon, "is not infallible and it may never be accurate enough to warrant courtroom use, but is a means of interrogating suspects and selecting them accurately. It is of particular value in preliminary investigations, where it may help eliminate some individuals. When these limitations are kept in mind and tests properly conducted, no harm will be done and much good may accrue."

to show the effects of water on the same thing. A little piece of meat, for instance, shrivels up in alcohol but absorbs much of the water. Resin, in water, just lies in the bottom of the bottle like sand, but in alcohol it dissolves, making a varnish. By showing what drastic effects alcohol has on things, the teacher intimates how foolish it is to take it into the human system.

Driving a Car
High school boys and girls and even university students are quite uninformed about this alcohol education and become much interested in it. The lessons for them are presented in the same way, but adapted to the age.

The slowing up of the reaction time of automobile drivers is stressed, and the whole program of alcohol instruction is getting a new emphasis toward its mental and psychological, as well as its physiological effects.

JAPAN CLOSES CHINESE COLLEGES

PEIPING, Sept. 6. (AP)—Regarding by some observers as the possible beginning of an educational exodus from Peiping due to the advance of Japanese influence in North China, two government colleges have closed their doors here.

The Customs college, founded in 1908 to train young Chinese for the maritime customs service, is being moved to Shanghai. The College of Salt Administration, opened in 1920 to prepare personnel for the government salt monopoly, is being closed.

WALL STREET CHEERED BY MESSAGE

President's Letter Is Taken Cheerfully By Stock Purchasers

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Sept. 6. (AP)—Wall street today cheerfully studied President Roosevelt's statement suggesting a "breathing spell" for New Deal business reforms and traders and investors cautiously, but confidently, bought stocks.

While it was no runaway market, early strength of the rails gave fresh encouragement to bullish commission houses and resulted in further moderate advances in most other divisions. In view of the recent rapid advance, however, profit taking was noted here and there.

Jump Seven Points

Shares of Homestake Mining jumped 7 points and others, up fractions to around a point, included Santa Fe, Delaware and Hudson, Union Pacific, N. Y. Central, Chrysler, General Motors, Auburn, American Can, Case, Deere, General Electric, American Smelting, Greyhound Corp., Montgomery Ward, Electric Auto-Lite, Houdaille-Hershey, Murray Corp., Consolidated Gas, American Water Works and Paramount Pictures. The steels were slightly improved and the oils were a trifle lower.

The chief executive's pronouncement was the most discussed topic in the financial district and much satisfaction was expressed over his view that the recovery program "has now reached substantial completion" and that modifying rules for trade and industry have been carried practically as far as intended.

Among other market influences were: Sale of a stock exchange seat at $120,000 up $15,000 from the last previous sale; eight months' earnings of Spiegel May-Stern showing an increase of 37.2 per cent over the comparative 1934 period; Woolworth's sales for August were up 3.6 per cent but revealed a decline of 1.2 per cent from the corresponding eight months of last year.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 6. (AP)—Spurred by news that the stock market resumed its advance today, and many issues reached new peaks for 1935. President Roosevelt's statement that industry was in for a "breathing spell" in the matter of administrative reforms helped to stimulate bullish feelings. The close was firm. Transactions approximated 2,300,000 shares.

FLAGS OF TRUCE VIOLATED BY LIONS

NAIROBI, Sept. 6. (AP)—The white flag of peace has been tried on the lions in the northern frontier of Kenya, but they refused to recognize it.

S. K. Dodge, from Little Rock, Ark., was on safari with 15 pack ponies. Every night he tethered them inside a circle of fluttering white flags. He had been told that lions disliked the pennants, but late one night a lioness waited to windward, while her mate came down wind towards the ponies, driving them through the camp.

The white hunter of the party, who had no faith in white flags, appeared carrying a torch and a rifle, and as the light flashed on the eyes of the lioness he fired.

One pony had been killed, but the account was squared the following morning when the wounded lioness was shot.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Sept. 6. (AP)—Wheat prices advanced moderately late today, and reached levels above any since Aug. 10. Late strength showed by the Chicago wheat market was more or less sympathy with behavior of the Minneapolis market, where a bull market was a new top price record for the season.

ARENA TO KEEP OPEN IN WINTER

Promoter Sam Sampson, the genial cuss who runs the boxing and wrestling shows at his high-way 101 arena, is so happy that his shows have "taken" here that he hopes to have the roof patched out there and to continue his shows on into the winter months.

Boxing has been slightly more than holding its own while wrestling, especially when some real greats of the game were billed, has packed the place to capacity with hundreds losing out for want of room. Orange county is the only locale now supporting both boxing and wrestling at the same arena—or would be except for the current attempt to bring fights back at the Olympic auditorium where they never will be a howling success.

LOOKING ON PAST FALL SEASON

Maybe it isn't fair to look over the heads of the big football players and onto the basketball court, but we can't help but be interested in a recent observation of Reece (Pinky) Greene, head coach of the local high school. Just as soon as he finishes helping Bill Foote with the grid gang he'll start his melon on the basketball court. He told us the other day he will have the tallest team this year he has ever had at the Poly institution. Tallness is to basketball, almost, what weight is to football. So you know why Greene is looking forward to the court season.

NO HOOKEY PARKING FOR FRANKIE PARKER

Frankie Parker, the young star of the U. S. tennis circle, wants to quit school (Lawrenceville academy) and concentrate on making the U. S. Davis cup team. As much as the Yankees appear to need help in this department, officials have discouraged Frankie in his efforts. An education, they point out, is the brilliant youngster is far more to be desired than a place on the Davis cup squad.

There are those who will agree with this but there are also those who will disagree. Like a place on an Olympic team or a seat in the first row of the balcony, are things that come once in a life time.

Holcombe Ward, chairman of the United States Davis cup committee, who wrote Parker to stick to his school books, is the same who told Ellsworth Vines he was crazy to leave his studies at University of Southern California for a career on the courts. Vines, a standout member of the Tilden Troupe, is doing all right for himself in a business-playing way now.

WHY THE SPEED FOR CAMPBELL?

We were arguing with other workers the other day as to why in so-and-so Sir Malcolm Campbell wanted to drive an automobile 300 miles per hour. One of the executives of the place heard our observations and remarked: "We thought the first man who wanted to go 40 in an automobile was taking a chance, too."

It had never occurred to us that Sir Malcolm was an ultra-pioneer.

SHORT SHOTS AT SPORTS ITEMS

A broken finger is keeping the redoubtable Bomo Koral on the sidelines for the remainder of the Star-Oiler series. Al Reboin goes behind the plate. . . . Would it surprise you to see George Stevens, Reboin or Doc Smith hurl one of the remaining two games? . . . Helen Jacobs says Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan is the player to beat in her quest for the fourth American championship. . . . High school teams probably won't do any night football playing around here. The lid has long since been clamped on but fans are hoping the ban will not be lifted to allow the Saint-Orange high school game to be played on a Friday eve.

'OLD MAN' THREATENED

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 6. (AP)—Old Man Par appeared slated for a shellacking today as nearly 160 of the nation's crack professional golfers launched the big push for the seventh annual Glens Falls Open championship and a slice of the $3500 prize melon. A new champion was certain to be crowned by Ky Laffoon, golfing typhoon of the west, was not on hand.

STARS ENTER THIRD TEST WITH OILERS

DON GRIDMEN OPEN GRIND MONDAY

Frank Boyd, Track Star, Now in Arizona But Plans to Enroll

Coaches Bill Cook and Al Reboin will be greeted by at least three of the greatest prep stars in the county when they open junior college football drills here next week.

Almost certain to don the uniform of the Dons are Oliver McCarter of Orange, who received all-County Prep league recognition for his quarterbacking with the Panthers; Frank McMichael, Tustin high's red-headed running guard, best in the county circuit last fall and Dave Phoenix of Costa Mesa, halfback flash from Newport Beach.

Jack Wilson Coming
These prized catches are the latest additions to a prospective list of other outstanding preps headed this way Monday afternoon. Including a Garden Grove contingent of John Lehnardt, stellar blocking half of two seasons ago; Jack Wilson, six-foot end who punts 70 yards; Ray Devine, 178-pound tackle and brother of "Red" Devine of Santa Ana's 1933 champions; and Sam Bragg, all-County league center.

Frank Ochoa, halfback star of the Anaheim machine that rode to the County league championship over Tustin last fall, but who moved to Hollywood at the close of school, is planning to enter either Santa Ana or Tustin junior college. He was slated for a conference with Coach Cook today.

Employed in Arizona, Frank Boyd, petite track star of the Dons, indicated a few weeks ago he would not enroll here this month, but now it is reported he will return to seek the quarterback post on the Don varsity.

Boyd, who runs the 440 in 50 seconds flat, played three years of football at Glen Elder, Kans. He is about the size of Bruce Harnois, a standout member of the Tilden Troupe, is doing all right for himself in a business-playing way now.

Hickman Is Ready
Walt Hickman, Santa Ana's Eastern all-conference fullback, is anxious to get back into harness, along with Quarterbacks Harnois and Major Anderson, End Hal Poteroff, Tackle Nelson Rodgers, Center Harold Youel and Bruce Martin, Fullback Dick Moore, all lettermen. Charley Roemer, center and guard, may pass up football for other extra-curricular activities.

All new and old prospects have been requested to report to Anaheim High school campus at 1 p.m. Monday to receive equipment. Practice sessions will be conducted at Poly field until the nightfall season is completed at the Municipal bowl, the Dons' regular headquarters.

JOCKEY KILLED AT STATE FAIR

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 6. (AP)—A racing tragedy saddened the corps of jockeys and sportsmen at the California state fair today.

Tugging at the reins of a horse running its first race, Henry Effingham, 27, veteran jockey of Effingham, Ill., lost his life when the animal stumbled and piled up at the half-mile post.

The accident occurred in the first event of the harness racing program yesterday afternoon while a brilliant crowd, celebrating Governor's day, looked on. Among those who witnessed the spectacular accident was Governor Merriam.

BING'S HORSES AT ARCADIA

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. (AP)—In spite of the fact that the Santa Anita winter meeting does not open until Christmas day, Bing Crosby the crooner moved his stable of a dozen thoroughbreds into the barns here today.

When Crosby's stable moved out at the end of the inaugural meeting last spring it consisted of three horses. But the motion picture and radio star moved his agent of a dozen bred colts and fillies on the market there.

Orange Carries on For County Teams

Orange's 20-30 Stars, now the only representative of the county that started with four entries, will face the General Petroleum nine of Santa Barbara in the second round of the Southern California softball championships at Thompson field, 3641 East Florence street, in Los Angeles, at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Santa Barbara outfit eliminated Riverside's Hancock Oilers, 1934 champions, by a score of 5-2 at Fiedler field last night, and will be favored over Manager Oscar Stutheit's 20-30's. Roger Larimer probably will hurl for Orange.

Anaheim, represented by the Funk Confectioners, faded out of the picture with a 3-2 defeat from the Mt. Whitney Pirates of San Pedro at Thompson field. Pitcher "Bud" Trainetti of the Pirates blasted a homer with one aboard for the decisive rally in the fourth.

San Pedro had a shut-out until the sixth, when the Confectioners pushed across their pair of runs. Anaheim threatened again in the seventh on Red Bath's single, but a speedy double play checked a possible rally.

Ray Ortiz chucked good ball for the losers.

Bob Longier pitched a no-hit game for Hollywood in shutting out the Sierra Madre Kiwanis, 7-0.

The box score:
Mt. Whitney Pirates AB R H O
Holman 1b 3 0 7 1
Turk 2b 2 0 1 1
Storrell 3b 2 0 1 1
Vroman 4b 2 0 1 1

Totals 25 0 21
Mt. Whitney Pirates 100 200 0
Anaheim Kiwanis 000 002 0-2
Errors—Holman, Eckman, Fisher.

By Trainetti 3; by Ortiz 12. Base on balls—Off Trainetti 1; off Ortiz 2. Double play—Eckman to Turk to Holman. Time of game—55 minutes. Umpires—Lipton and Dillon.

SAINT ELEVEN SEEKS TILT WITH S.B.

Santa Barbara, the northern school that slipped a 14-12 victory over Saints in a thriller two seasons ago, may appear on Santa Ana High school's 1935 football schedule. The game would be played at Santa Barbara.

Santa Barbara is said to be anxious for a home contest on Oct. 12, a date Santa Ana has tentatively filled with Herbert Hoover of San Diego. It is understood the Hoover eleven must play Inglewood on this day, however, and will be forced to pass up the Saints unless the schedule conflict is removed.

The Saints inaugurate their non-conference season with Orange here two weeks from today. The opener may be held at night in the Municipal bowl if permission is granted by the board of education. Pasadena Muir-Tech comes here the following week. Santa Ana treks to Inglewood Oct. 4.

Fund faces Fullerton in another non-league test here Nov. 9. Conference games will be played with San Diego, Alhambra and Long Beach.

Warren (Whitey) Mann, q. Carroll joy, lf; Bob Dunning, rf; and Bill Musick, fullback, form a backfield combination with which Coaches Poole and Reese Greene are experimenting at Poly field this week. . . . Whether Bill Milligan, 205-pound end, will be on the Saint roster will not be known until further x-ray examination of the left arm he broke in an inter-school tussle May 29. . . . Scrimmages with Tustin and Garden Grove will be arranged for the Saints within the next few days.

Eddie Hall, Santa Ana sportsman, will play the Long Beach polo team against the Los Lobos, representing the Mexican Consulate of Los Angeles, at the Long Beach polo club, Anaheim street and Hathaway drive, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. Hall will be a teammate of Henry Lacey, star for the Argentine International polo team, and former owner and trainer of Jupiter, one of the world's most famous polo ponies. L. H. Fitzpatrick and Gus Walker are other members of the Long Beach quartet.

The Mexican team consists of Capt. E. Romero, L. Morales, J. McManus and A. Morales.

The impressive features of Joe Louis broke into a very slight smile when he was introduced from the ring in Madison Square Garden at the Buddy Baer-Jack Doyle fight.

PICK LUTZE TO DOWN DUSEK

When Nick Lutze battered Chief Little Wolf around and about to win Referee Don McDonald's decision at the Orange County Athletic club two weeks ago, he started what experts claim will culminate in his most serious bid for top-flight wrestling honors, for never before in his colorful career has Lutze displayed such enthusiasm and speed in clamping on his holds.

It is pointed out that Lutze lacked aggressiveness in the past, but those who watched him chase Little Wolf all over the Orange County club's ring, couldn't be convinced that Nick lacks aggressive tactics at present and because of this many are predicting a win for the handsome former lifeguard when he meets Ernie (Dirty) Dusek in the best two of three falls feature Monday night.

"Paul Boesch will make a tremendous hit with fans asserting that the Jewish mat star makes his bow in the semi-final against Roughhouse Carone, and 'may become my biggest card.'"

SUB DEFEATS AGUIRRE IN BOUT HERE

Lopez Works For Quillon And Upsets National Flyweight Champion

Training note on how to beat a champion: Lie in bed until fight time and then go out and outbox the title holder.

That's exactly what Little Chief Leo Lopez did at the Orange County Athletic club last night when he went in as a substitute for Paddy Quillon, former Santa Ana and grabbed a decision over Johnny Aguirre, National Amateur Athletic union flyweight king.

When Quillon failed to show, promoters dug Lopez out of his bed. Apparently refreshed by his sleep, Lopez took three of the four rounds from Aguirre by the simple but effective plan of staying away and outboxing the title holder. Although the decision was not too popular with the fair sized crowd, the press boys thought the substitute earned the nod easily.

Fast Battle
Tony Levario, 140, went down for a nine-count in the third round and the bell saved him from a knockout in his semi-windup fight with Al Garcia. Climaxing a fast battle, Levario came on fast in the fourth but couldn't catch Levario who got the decision.

Colored Ernie Carter scored a technical knockout over Joe Cardine in the third, and Art Arroya, Westminster stylist, grabbed a slow bout from Ralph Morales. Tino Munzo won by the referee's vote over Willie Hawkins, 160.

Paul Sucedo floored Bill White for a nine-count in the first and took the decision while Johnny Chavez dropped his battle with Al Estrada on a foul. Santa Ana's Boots Hawkins floored Al Ortiz, a slow bout from Ralph Morales. Tino Munzo won by the referee's vote over Willie Hawkins, 160.

JOURNAL DESIGNS TIN TROPHY FOR REGISTER NINE

A loving cup, consisting of a tin funnel, two spoons, a tin plate and with a wood base, has been designed by Glenn L. Thorne, Journal proof-reader, as a gift to The Register's mechanical staff that defeated The Journal's "backshop," 12-12 in a softball game at Irvine park Labor day.

The cup is now on display in the show windows of Swanberger's Store for Men, 205 West Fourth street.

WITH 21 LETTERMEN READY RICE OWLS ARE FAVORITES

(This is the fourth of a series on football prospects at leading universities and colleges.)
HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 6. (AP)—The maxim that the Southwest conference football title never spends more than a year at the same school is not worrying Jimmy Kitts, young head coach of Rice Institute's defending champions, but some of the teams on the Owls' schedule are.

The more enthusiastic Rice supporters are predicting that the Owls will sweep through their tough 11-game schedule without defeat. Kitts, who brought Rice a title in his first year as head coach, can't see it that way.

"Wholesome Respect"
"I'm not afraid of the jinx that pursued past champions," Kitts said, "but I do have a wholesome respect for Texas Christian, Southern Methodist, Texas, and, in fact, all our other opponents."

Kitts feels that his charges will be strong enough but that they will have no monopoly on strength and that any semblance of over-confidence likely will prove fatal. The Owls must play Louisiana State, Texas Christian, Texas, Southern Methodist and George Washington away from home. Indiana are that all five teams will be hard to beat. Kitts believes every team in the conference will suffer at least one defeat.

Due to the fact that the Owls are in the favorite's seat, with one all-American performer, four all-conference men and 21 lettermen returning, their conference opponents will be "gunning" for them. Texas and Southern Methodist, in particular, will be out to get revenge for defeats in close games last fall.

The touchdown twins, John McCauley and all-America Bill Wallace, figure to make their last season their best.

Rice will be the only Southwest conference team to invade the East this fall. The Owls meet George Washington at Washington, D. C., early in November. Another eastern eleven, Duquesne, will come to Houston. Louisiana State in the Southeastern conference and Creighton in the Midwest complete the intersectional opposition.

GIANTS CLING TO SECOND BY HAIR

Chicago Cubs Victims Of Percentage Figuring; Cardinals Advance

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

The law of averages—that vague code blamed or praised for so many happenings in the sport world—was the only thing that was keeping the second-place New York Giants out of third place in the National league today.

The club which set the pace in the circuit from late April nearly to the end of August, found its slump still going strong at Cincinnati yesterday and took a 4 to 1 setback from the Reds.

The Giants' rival contenders for the pennant, the league-leading Cardinals and challenging Cubs, won their games. The Cards went on a batting rampage to trim the Braves 15 to 3 while the Cubs outlasted the Phillies 3 to 2 in an 11-inning pitching duel.

As a result the Cards moved three games and Chicago a half game ahead of the Giants. As the averages worked out, however, the Giants, with seven more games to play than Chicago, had the better percentage, .611 to .609.

Pittsburgh's fourth-place Pirates got back on the winning trail, a bit too far back to look dangerous any more, when Gus Suh's homer and doubles by Pop Young and Bud Hefey enabled them to come from behind in the eighth and beat Brooklyn, 5 to 4.

The Cleveland-Boston double-header was the only part of the American league program to survive the continuing rain. Willis Hudlin's six-hit elbowing and his home run gave the Indians an 8 to 1 decision over Lefty Grove, while the Sox came back behind Wes Ferrell's brilliant flinging to win 6 to 1.

GARCIA OFF FOR BOUT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. (AP)—Ceferno Garcia, Filipino welterweight, left here today by automobile with his manager, George Parnassos, for San Francisco, where he meets Barney Ross, world's champion, in a non-title bout Sept. 13.

The fading Oakland Oaks came to life suddenly to halt the winning streak of the Sacramento Senators, pounding out a 9 to 1 victory behind the five-hit pitching of Ken Douglas.

The Boston Redskins of pro football weigh a total of 6240 pounds, averaging 212 pounds in the line and 202 in the backfield.

RAIN — BUT NO SINGING

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 6. (AP)—For the fourth successive day, rain forced postponement of play in the national singles tennis championships.

Officials, harassed by the steady downpour, hope now to complete the tournament by Wednesday.

Reboin to Catch At Bowl Tonight

Shifting Al Reboin back of the plate, and assigning George Preble to second, Santa Ana's struggling Stars tackle Huntington Beach's pennant-bound Oilers in the third game of the National Night Ball league play-offs at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the Municipal bowl. Huntington Beach has removed some of the spice from the series by a decisive 7-1 and 9-5 victories, but despite the unquestionable superiority of Joe Rodgers' aggregation more than 2000 fans are expected.

An attendance of better than 2000 in the inaugural grossed $428.65 at the Municipal bowl. The second game drew $241.85 at Huntington Beach.

Koral Is Injured

With a broken index finger on his right hand, Back-stop "Bomo" Koral will be on the sidelines tonight. Reboin, slated for the assignment anyway because of Koral's poor showing in the first two games, will catch the entire game unless it is necessary to employ him as a relief hurler.

Jimmy Coates, whose recent pitching has disappointed the fans as well as himself, looks for improvement in his new test with the Stars. The baffling Louie Neva, of course, will toil for the confident invaders.

Preble, who thus far has watched the series from the sidelines, will replace "Doc" Smith at second. Smith, whose defensive work in the infield recently has been ineffective, will alternate with Rod Ballard in centerfield.

Denney On Vacation
Manager Tom Denney was on his vacation today, and could not be reached. His exact batting order is unknown except for the first six men. He will lead off, followed by Francis Conrad, ss; Merle Urbine, 1b; Reboin, c; Leavitt Daley, rf; and Pitcher Coates. Ballard or Smith probably will precede Preble and Young at the plate.

BEAVERS, SEALS SETTING PACE

(By The Associated Press)

The Pacific Coast league may yet give the form players a break and settle down to a two-way pennant race between the San Francisco Seals and the Portland Ducks.

From the standpoint of hurling and hitting, as well as fielding, it looked like a setup for the Seals and Ducks, who excel in those departments. But the Seals, while flirting with the top spot, have not been able to hold it for any long time, and Portland only recently has come to the fore.

Signs of the Mission crackup that the experts have been predicting appear this week. Yesterday the Streetmen took their third straight lacing from Los Angeles, 8 to 0, while Portland climbed into undisputed possession of second place with a 10-0 victory over Seattle.

The win put the Ducks just one game behind the leading Seals, who dropped a notch by losing, 12-6, to the last-place Hollywood Stars.

The fading Oakland Oaks came to life suddenly to halt the winning streak of the Sacramento Senators, pounding out a 9 to 1 victory behind the five-hit pitching of Ken Douglas.

The Boston Redskins of pro football weigh a total of 6240 pounds, averaging 212 pounds in the line and 202 in the backfield.

'LIFE NOTHING WITHOUT HER,' SAYS MAN, SHOOTS INVALID WIFE, SELF

DEATH BRINGS PEACE FOR AGED PAIR

Two Notes Tell Desire To End Suffering Of Beloved Mate, 83

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 6. (AP)—Two blasts from a shotgun today had brought peace in death to G. W. Bechtel, 83-year-old rancher, and his invalid wife, Emma, 80.

Officers, viewing the case at the Jamacha ranch house in the back country today, described it as a murder-suicide.

The aged man left two notes. Between them they explained the double tragedy. One was addressed to their daughter, Mrs. Stella Bernard, who lived with them. It read:

"I can't see mother suffer longer; three years is too much. I must put an end to it. We will go together, hand in hand, in death as in life."

"To our beloved children and friends," said the other. "Do not mourn for us. Place us side by side and say to the world, 'They have gone to their rest where there is no more pain or sorrow.'"

In another part, the note read: "Do not consider me a suicide. I have only put myself in a position to go on the long journey with my loving darling. Life is nothing to me without her. . . . It is a relief to see her relieved of her pain and I will continue to be by her side. Death cannot separate us and may the Lord receive our souls. Amen."

CASE OF MISSING JUSTICE 'MYSTERY' TO EX-SHOWGIRL

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. (AP)—The mystery of New York's missing Justice Joseph F. Crater, who dropped out of sight five years ago, was still a mystery here today to Jayne Manners, former Broadway showgirl.

A new "angle" in the case bobbed up unexpectedly yesterday when the dancer's estranged husband, Maurice L. Kusell, in a divorce petition, declared that his wife had told him she knew enough about the puzzling case "to blow up the entire affair."

Miss Manners, who said she used to be known as June Manners, came back with the statement that the matter was "as much of a mystery to me as it is to the entire world."

Fullerton Hillcrest Park Boasts Lone 'Possum, But It and Birds to Be Moved

(This is the twelfth of a series of articles having to do with the establishment and development of Fullerton's two parks, outstanding beauty spots and recreational institutions of Southern California. The series is intended to be informative to those cities which do not enjoy park facilities. Santa Ana is listed in the latter classification.)

By ROCH BRADSHAW

Young Mr. O'Possum resides in a "private" cage at Hillcrest park. He was an unexpected addition to the collection of birds and chipmunks in Hillcrest and Commonwealth parks. He has been there several weeks and is gradually getting accustomed to his new surroundings. He is the only possum there.

Harry Byerrum, park superintendent, had not intended to add a possum to the wild life family that lives near the house where he resides in Hillcrest park. The addition came uninvited.

One day while his light truck was parked in Fullerton, someone put a large can in the truck. When Mr. Byerrum returned, he investigated and found Mr. O'Possum inside. The young fellow at that time had evidently seen better days. And so Mr. Byerrum took him home to give him a rest cure and proper food.

Eventually Mr. O'Possum will have to move to new quarters.

Hillcrest park does not pretend to have a zoo, and the birds living in cages there probably will be transferred to Commonwealth park, where they will join the other birds and chipmunks already quartered near the picnic grounds. Mr. O'Possum is expected to go with them. Mr. Byerrum's house in Hillcrest park will be demolished when a new electric fountain is installed there. The cages nearby also will be moved.

The migration to Commonwealth park will include ring-necked pheasants, ring-necked quails, a gold pheasant, a variety of love birds or parakeets, a peacock—and Mr. O'Possum.

At Commonwealth park they will find other love birds, pheasants and a cage of chipmunks. Mr. O'Possum will have the distinction of being the only one of his kind in the zoo unless, of course, there are other unexpected additions to his cage.

Other Tuition Charged

No tuition is charged at the junior college, but students must purchase their own textbooks. The amount spent on text books averages $10 to $15 each year.

A fee of 25 cents which was charged each semester for "blue books" used during examinations has been dispensed with as have charges for the Subject A examination and the aptitude test required of all entering freshmen.

Classes in the science department have the highest fee. Bacteriology carries a fee of $2; botany, $1; chemistry 1A-1B, $3, with $2 breakage fee; chemistry 2A-2B, $2, with $2 breakage fee; chemistry 9, $7, with $3 breakage fee; geology, $1.50; zoology, 2; surveying, $2; and physics, $2.

A fee of $1 for supplies is charged in all art classes, and some economics classes have a 50 cent supply fee. Mechanics shop course have a fee of $1.50 and drawing classes of $1. A fee of 50 cents is charged for towels in physical education classes and a deposit of 50 cents for the gymnasium locker. The book locker deposit is also 50 cents. Other fees are $1 for change of program and $1 for late registration.

Students unable to pay these fees are given an opportunity to work them out.

SCHOOL FEES HALVED IN SANTA ANA

Fees and deposits required for laboratory courses and physical education classes at Santa Ana Junior college have been reduced approximately one-half by action of the board of education and many other fees have been done away with, D. K. Hammond, director of the college, announced today.

Nominal fees are charged to cover the expense of breakage and supplies in laboratory courses, and unused breakage fees are returned. A small deposit is charged in physical education classes for lockers and for book lockers in College hall. Fees, including the Associated Student book at $7, average about $10 to $20 per year.

FORMER L. A. JUDGE AND AIDE TO DAVIS DIES OF ATTACK

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. (AP)—Edward J. Henning, who died of a heart attack on a train at Toledo, O., today, served as federal court judge here for four years, retiring in 1929 to become counsel for motion picture interests here and in New York.

He was general counsel for the Moose lodge at the time of his death. In 1921 he was named assistant secretary of labor under Secretary Davis. The late President Coolidge appointed him to the federal bench here in 1925.

With the reopening of schools scheduled for next week, the shortage of homes is becoming more acute, according to O. S. Johnston, president of the Johnston School of Business. He said yesterday he was informed by the parents of two students in the school that there is but one furnished house available within walking distance of the school. The two families are recent arrivals in the city from Calipatria.

Improved business conditions are being reflected in school enrollment, said Mr. Johnston, remarking that last Tuesday the school had the largest single enrollment experienced in many years.

TREATING BY RADIO TOLD

Results On Ill Cattle Are Described By Veterinarian

Short wave radio treatment for pneumonia in cattle shortens the entire period that the disease holds an animal in its power, according to an article in the American Veterinary and Medical Journal, explained today by Dr. N. D. Cash, who operates a small animal hospital here.

Use of the short wave treatment has been 100 per cent successful on cattle at the Hathaway feeding yards near Santa Fe Springs. The experience there was described in yesterday's Journal.

The article in the July issue of the veterinary journal was written by Dr. C. E. Wiktor of the Los Angeles county livestock department, who described the treatment and its results. He declared that the radio treatment, or use of diathermy, had been successful in treating humans and that it was being tried on cattle.

First on Record

Use of the treatment at the Hathaway feeding yards was the first on record for cattle so far as is known.

The treatment, said the article, is effected through application of two flexible pads on either side of the animal's neck. The instrument used at the Hathaway ranch, known as a short wave emitter, has an 18 meter wave length and uses 16,600,000 cycles per second. The ordinary treatment lasts for 25 minutes, with an outgoing count of from 2000 to 3100 milliamperes, according to the article.

Treatments at the Hathaway ranch were given once a day except in severe cases, when they were administered twice daily. Six or seven treatments practically cured the animals.

Respiration Improves

Dr. Wiktor's article said that very soon after treatment an improvement in respiration and pulse was noted. There was an increase in the mucous discharge from nasal passages. During treatment there was a general relaxation of the animals, and drowsiness. Animals not blanketed, and treated in the open, showed a slight advance in temperature of not more than one-half a degree. The latter period of the disease was noticeably shortened and the en-

Treatments at the Hathaway ranch were given once a day except in severe cases, when they were administered twice daily. Six or seven treatments practically cured the animals.

Respiration Improves

Dr. Wiktor's article said that very soon after treatment an improvement in respiration and pulse was noted. There was an increase in the mucous discharge from nasal passages. During treatment there was a general relaxation of the animals, and drowsiness. Animals not blanketed, and treated in the open, showed a slight advance in temperature of not more than one-half a degree. The latter period of the disease was noticeably shortened and the en-

Use of the treatment at the Hathaway feeding yards was the first on record for cattle so far as is known.

WILMINGTON, Sept. 6. (AP)—Caught in the screw-type conveyor which takes sawdust from a lumber mill to the furnace, O. A. Stuart, 61, San Pedro, was ground to death early today.

The body of Mr. Stuart, night engineer at the Patten-Blinn Lumber company here, was found by Henry Boatright, nightwatchman.

PATERNITY CASE UP AGAIN

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. (AP)—The child paternity case involving Royal Leonard, former transport plane pilot, and Mrs. Florence Suddarth, airline employee at Kansas City, has been reopened. Leonard, recently adjudged the father of a child born to Mrs. Suddarth and ordered to pay $50 a month for its support, yesterday petitioned the court for a retrial. The court granted his petition.

'Take a Look at Yourself,' Advises Reader to Man Who's Tired of Old Wife

By MARY STODDARD

He's a middle-aged business man. He's fallen in love with a "fine girl" and this association covers a period of eight years. It's gotten to the point where he would leave his loyal wife, mother of his children, and follow new trails to happiness.

His wife, learning of the affair, begs him to send the girl away and let her attempt to win his love all over again. He respects his wife, but now thinks he has never loved her.

He asks: "Just how far does a man's duty go in marriage?" Because he can provide for his present wife and family, and also the girl should be married, he seems to think that there duty ends.

Here's what some more of our readers have to say:
Dear Miss Stoddard: The answer to Middle-aged Business Man was very good indeed.

"Oh, would the gods the gift give us, to see ourselves as others see us."

If this M. A. B. man would look closely at his reflection in the mirror, could he imagine himself anything except a M. A. B. man? He would discover that he is no longer a sweet, honest young fellow, "Somebody's darling so young and so fair," a proper mate for an innocent maid?

Marriage is not for a day or until we either quarrel or imagine there's another mate more compatible—"for better, for worse" was a part of the vow—"I promise until death do us part."

Stand by those vows, Mr. M. A. B. man, which has been a large contributor to your business which you say you built up from the bottom, and the little nest egg that would permit you to provide for two families. It was built on honor and honesty. Take those two factors away, and the nest egg will likely vanish and you'll be an old man with a discontented young wife and no loyal wife and mother to stand by you.

Tell your fine wife again how beautiful she is, how much you love her. Love will heal all hurts and bring its own reward.

Let a young man have the girl—youth and youth, not youth and old age, should be your slogan henceforth.

GRANDPA'S EXPERIENCE.

RESIDENTS' NIECE WINS QUEEN'S POST

Santa Anans were interested to learn this week that Miss Betty Jean Seid, Bloomington, niece of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McConnell, 1218 Orange, had won honors at the Watermelon festival last Saturday in that city.

She was crowned queen as the closing event of the annual watermelon celebration.

Affair For Lindgrens Is Given

Double occasions were celebrated Wednesday night at the Ebell club-house when the congregation of the Calvary church assembled at a reception for the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren and Mrs. Lindgren, to mark their 15th wedding anniversary and the beginning of the Rev. Mr. Lindgren's fifth year as pastor of the Calvary church.

Taking each letter of the word, crystal, in keeping with the nature of the 15th wedding anniversary, the program began with a children's chorus number and a selection by the choir. "R" was represented by response from the radio audience, that heard the Sunday morning services. Representatives from that group spoke their felicitations, and a number of letters and greeting cards were read. Mrs. Julia Goss of Orange, a former member who will celebrate her 100th birthday in December, was among those who sent cards.

Young People Next

The young people, with Coy Martin as spokesman, represented the "Y," and Glenn Bower, superintendent of the Sunday school, spoke for the "S." "T" called for a reading by Marjorie Pedersen from the "teen age group. Adults, represented by a talk from Mrs. William Breckenridge, president of the Women's society, stood for "A," and a toast to the Lindgrens, made by E. K. Wyman, chairman of the executive board of the church, completed the acrobatic.

Concluding his toast, Mr. Wyman presented the honored guests with a table mirror, and bowl and sandalsticks of cut crystal. Acceptance speeches were made by both the Rev. Mr. Lindgren and Mrs. Lindgren.

Surprising the honored guests, Dr. Louis Talbot, pastor of the Church of the Open Door in Los Angeles, who presided at the marriage of the Rev. Mr. Lindgren and Mrs. Lindgren, attended the reception with Mrs. Talbot. He was invited to speak at the meeting which preceded the reception. Mr. and Mrs. William G. Nymann, also of Los Angeles, long-time friends of the Lindgrens, were present.

Other Anniversaries

Coincidental were the wedding anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Griddle and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Black, members of the congregation, who were celebrating on the same day. The Lindgrens' observance really fell on September 2, but so as not to conflict with the holiday the church reception had been held over until Wednesday.

A festive wedding cake, cookies and punch were served, with Mrs. Elwin Gammell and Mrs. George Lackey presiding at the punch bowls.

Mrs. Lewis Gall of the Woman's society was chairman of the event, assisted by a committee from the society.

'If In Doubt'

E. P.: Don't make a bore of yourself by introducing everyone to everyone at your parties. If you leave a guest stranded, not knowing anyone, that of course is crude; but to stop with a few introductions and allow people to mingle naturally is entirely proper.

Marian Martin House Frock Is Easy, Economical--Fun to Make

Whether you're just a "light" housekeeper, or an old-fashioned one who still keeps a cookie jar in the pantry, this charming house or porch frock will appeal strongly, for it's as thrifty as it is smart. Wearing it you will be dainty for breakfast, smart to go to market, or answer a surprise call at the door, without feeling flustered or untidy. Its lines are plain, simple and extremely slenderizing, while the button accents and sleeves go in for button accents and sleeves. Note how shoulder darts make a nicely turned shoulder, and release fullness only when necessary. Make it in percale or other colorful material. Complete, Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9244 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 4 yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

How do you encourage politeness in your child?

Mrs. A. L. Hanson: My five-year-old son takes dramatics in Long Beach, and I think the experience gives him a certain social poise. Then, I don't spank him, but talk with him and treat him as I would an adult. We try never to let him encounter disagreements or inharmonies.

Mrs. Louise Norton: Start your training early. Say "please" when you give your child anything, and "thank you" when he or she gives you something—if you're polite to your child, the child will respond with instinctive politeness.

Mrs. F. A. Burkett: I believe that starting in early to train the child in being courteous and polite is very important. When children enter school, they meet so many different problems that if they are given a strong foundation in good behavior in pre-school days, it is a protection to them.

AMELIA PERKINS COMPLIMENTED BY MAYFLOWER CLUB

Mrs. Amelia Perkins' eighty-first birthday anniversary was celebrated by her fellow members of the Mayflower club at their September meeting early this week in the home of Mrs. William C. Maryme and Mrs. F. W. Sanford.

Gay pottery and flowers appointed the picnic luncheon served in the garden. Cards and sewing followed the luncheon hour.

Others present were Mesdames Laura Sanborn, P. T. Isherwood, S. F. Bernier, V. C. Shidler and daughter, Jacqueline, L. A. Gowdy, William Lawrence, C. W. Rowland, Archie Perkins, J. W. Parkinson, C. W. Copeland, J. H. Bateman, E. Frisby, Edward Cochems, W. R. Ford, Sarah Maryme, Cecelia Ortel, and Harvey Springer and Roger Perkins, Jean and Dicky Maryme, and Dorothy and Joan Sanford.

Houseguest Goes to San Diego to Visit Exposition

Mrs. Mary Bucho of El Paso, Texas, who has been spending two weeks at a houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Parley Smith, Clinton Street, left yesterday to visit the San Diego exposition for a few days, afterward to return to Santa Ana and thence go north to visit friends before leaving for Texas. E. M. and Mrs. Smith and their houseguest returned early this week from a week's motor vacation trip to Holbrook and to Prescott, Ariz., where they visited Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith. They also stopped at the Grand canyon.

HUSKING CORN

When husking corn, cut through the husks around the cob at the stalk end. The husks peel off much easier than pulling them off from the silk end.

When a group of swimmers at Huntington Beach finished a rough and tumble with the waves Wednesday afternoon, they came up to the glass shelter house on the pier to find a table decorated in frills of rainbow colors awaiting them as the climax of the birthday party of Ruth Marian Childs, who was celebrating her "tenth."

Mrs. E. R. Childs of 1201 South Broadway had arranged the table for her daughter's party. Rows of varied colors of crepe paper edged the lace doilies which were set at each place. A decorated birthday cake in yellow centered the table.

When all the presents were opened, the birthday honoree sat in the midst of an array of beautiful gifts.

X. N. O. CLUB HAS LAST GARDEN FETE OF CURRENT YEAR

Members of the X. N. O. club had their last picnic meeting of the current year Wednesday afternoon in the pretty gardens of Mrs. E. E. Lentz' home on South Broadway.

Flower-centered small tables under garden umbrellas were used in the luncheon hour. Afterward, the guests sewed and chatted. Mrs. B. A. Hershey, 2014 South Parton street, will entertain the club September 18 in her home.

Other guests were Mesdames E. E. Edwards, A. B. Bennett, H. E. Trutt, W. Ray Edwards, E. E. Perry, R. A. McPhee and son, Billy Bob, and Lowell Lentz, the hostess' son.

Girls To Be Paid Honor At Party

Nine Orange county girls will be complimented at a tea and reception Saturday afternoon in the C. Stanley Chapman home on El Dorado ranch, Fullerton, when the Orange county Stanford Women's club entertains with its annual going-away party for girls planning to attend Stanford university in the ensuing year.

Miss Pauline Wells, Miss Mariana Baxter, Miss Lillian Hurwitz and Miss Mary Tuthill, Santa Ana, Miss Lois De Long, Miss Virginia Filpen and Miss Helen Volberding of Orange, Miss Lorraine Milano of Fullerton, and Miss Ann Stanford of La Habra, are the Stanford coeds to be honored. Their mothers are also being invited to the party.

Mrs. Ross Shafer, Stanford club president, is working with Mrs. Chapman and various other Stanford women to plan the party. Miss Anita Shephardson, member of the Fullerton Union High school faculty, is to present a musical reading.

Last year's courtesies to the Stanfordites included a pretty gesture by which housewife bouquets from the club greeted each Orange county girl the day she arrived on the Stanford campus. An outstanding activity of the club is its annual benefit scholarship party to aid a worthy girl student at the university.

PEGGY MARCHANT HAS GAY SIXTH BIRTHDAY PARTY

All the fuss and flutter that a little girl should have on her sixth birthday surrounded the party which celebrated the arrival of Peggy Marchant to her sixth year Tuesday afternoon when her mother entertained in the gardens of their home, 617 South Shelton.

Chairs and tables for the little guests had been set out in the garden. Lawn games were played, with enthusiasm mounting over a peanut hunt, in which prizes went to Rosemarie Taylor and Jeanette Brown.

Shouts of glee sounded as each gift was opened. A large birthday cake with six candles was brought out and each guest was given an individual, decorated cake. Decorated doll suckers were at each place. Home-made ice cream was served with the cake for refreshments.

Mrs. R. E. Willis, grandmother of Peggy, and Mrs. Ethel Crane assisted with the hostess duties. Other guests present were Mesdames J. Ritter, Earl Boyes, I. R. Mercier, Basil Mark, George Pickett and Kenneth Andrews, and the little guests, Katherine, Virginia and Jeanette Brown, Virginia Mae Gates, Eleanor Duffall, Dorothy Taylor, Rose Marie Taylor, Bobbie Ann Mercier, Marceline, Eugene and Ronald Mark, Kenneth and Norman Andrews, Buddy Pickett, Jackie Myrel Boyes, and the honoree's little sister, Rosemary Marchant.

PARTY CELEBRATES 10TH BIRTHDAY OF RUTH CHILDS

When a group of swimmers at Huntington Beach finished a rough and tumble with the waves Wednesday afternoon, they came up to the glass shelter house on the pier to find a table decorated in frills of rainbow colors awaiting them as the climax of the birthday party of Ruth Marian Childs, who was celebrating her "tenth."

GROUP OF PARTIES GIVEN ON EVE OF GOING TO COLLEGE

Because very soon they will be split up by collegeward trips, three girls entertained their friends recently by parties.

Yesterday afternoon, Miss Elizabeth Borchard was hostess at her home on Williams street for a party at which guessing games and charades provided entertainment. Tangled strings led the guests' way to the gaily-appointed table where cake topped with whipped cream and cherries was served. Mrs. C. Stewart assisted in serving.

Guests included Misses Janet Raitt and Dora Lloyd, who are soon to leave for Pomona college, and who were especially complimented at the party, and Misses Geraldine Griffith, Jane Gilbrath, Mary Elizabeth Heaney, Virginia Stewart and Mary Crow.

Tuesday afternoon, Janet and Dora were feted with a party given by Miss Geraldine Griffith at her home on West Sixth street. The honorees turned the courtesy in her hostess when they surprised her with birthday gifts.

Miss Ruth Griffith assisted her niece in hosting. After playing games, the guests were seated at a table centered by a miniature campus scene. Farewell gifts were given Janet and Dora. Dessert was served by Mrs. C. Stewart.

Other guests were Misses Ann Borchard, Mary Elizabeth Heaney, Virginia Stewart, Betty Scheel and Mildred Pearson. Earlier in the week, Miss Virginia Stewart gave a bridge tea in her home on South Gurney street. Misses Janet Raitt and Mary Elizabeth Heaney won prizes.

Ice cream and cake were served.

CLUB COED HAS GAY PARTY AT McFARREN HOME

Members of the Club Coed had a gay party last evening at the home of Misses Genevieve and Lenore McFarren on East Chestnut street.

Bridge prizes went to Misses Clarice Miller and Dorothy Flaherty.

The hostesses served a dessert course of gelatin, with whipped cream, open-face sandwiches, cakes and coffee.

Other guests were Misses Kay Blake, Billie Johnson, Mildred Beckman and Mary Ellen Dudley.

Radio Roundup

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS

By FRANCIA WHITE
Beauty Box Theater Star

COLUMNISTS, especially those on radio pages, have many sins on their hands, and now another has been committed. All along I believed the amateur epidemic was a radio monopoly. But now I see that the newspapers are going in for it, too, and on a much broader scale, for I can't imagine the assignment handed to a more typical novice. Two questions are constantly being fired at me by about every third person I meet: "How did it feel to skyrocket from the comparative obscurity of a motion picture voice double to the leading lady on one of the major radio networks?" "How did it feel to be rushed 3000 miles across the continent to New York with a radio contract in your pocket and find yourself standing in Gladys Swarthout's shoes on the Beauty Box Theater program?" Well, there's only one pure way to answer those questions if the reply is to reflect all the sensations of excitement and thrill that beset me. And that way would be to throw the dictionary at the typewriter. Since that is impractical, under the circumstances, I'll try the understandable and second best way with a cool piece of description.

I walked into the NBC studios, with teeth chattering and wide eyes, knowing that Gladys Swarthout had a national reputation as a superb singer, an artist who consistently gave fine performances. The Beauty Box standard of song was high.

Another thing that made me quake was the fact that Miss Swarthout was so popular with everyone with whom she worked. Not that anyone tried to do it difficult for me, but I was aware that I was quietly being watched out of the corners of many eyes to see if there were any chips on my shoulders that had to be knocked off.

But gradually, I became accustomed to the routine of "big time" radio work, and today, after five months, am finding it very comfortable and realizing that any other girl selected for the part could come through successfully.

Today it is gratifying to find that my acquaintances don't seem to be particularly impressed with my contract. They seem to think it was "in the cards."

TAXES REFUND DENIED PAIR

Refund of taxes paid under protest was denied Sam Block and Max Rouse yesterday in a decision handed down by Presiding Judge James L. Allen in department 2, superior court.

The two Los Angeles businessmen had sued the county of Orange, Tax Collector J. C. Lamb and Assessor James Sleeper for a refund of county taxes amounting to $164.75, and the City of Newport Beach, City Assessor Mike Rinehart and Roland Hodgkinson, as city tax collector, for $146.64.

They contended they were forced to pay city and county taxes on hotel, restaurant and drug store furniture and fixtures that did not belong to them on March 4, last, when the taxes were levied. They admitted, however, that they came into possession of the property on the following day.

On March 11 both the city and county attached the furnishings to secure payment of the taxes, which were paid under protest.

BUREAU SEEKS 260 MEMBERS

The farm bureau board of directors yesterday approved plans for the annual membership drive of the organization, according to Roland D. Flaherty, secretary.

The campaigns will start on September 16 in the Cypress-Magnolia farm center district and end at Garden Grove on November 8, he said. The quota was set at 260 new members. Present membership is 1515. Each farm center will conduct its campaign separately. The program, which is the same as that of last year, was recommended by R. J. Mueller, chairman of the membership department.

The board also approved a project of the farm advisor's office for the formation of a cooperative bookkeeping organization among farmers, Mr. Flaherty said.

UNITED TODAY FOR ANAHEIM RESIDENT

Funeral services for Otto A. Matz, brother of Mrs. Caroline Johnson of Anaheim, were to be conducted from the Higgenfeld funeral home there at 2 p. m.

The findings of a coroner's jury in Los Angeles county, were that death resulted from a fractured skull sustained when he was accidentally struck by an automobile driven by Vernon Mansur, Orange, Sunday night on Manchester boulevard, Los Angeles county. In addition to the sister in Anaheim there survive another sister and three brothers in Wisconsin.

Associates and city employees who were to serve as pallbearers were Frank Trokey, J. P. Gibson, George Chetalet, J. S. Bouldin, James Reeves, Dick Stock, R. Nybo and Bob Clark.

The Rev. S. E. Schrader, pastor of the Salem Evangelical church, was to officiate, and burial was to be in the Anaheim cemetery.

MACARTHUR HONORED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur was honored late yesterday for his outstanding five-years service as army chief of staff. Secretary Dorn pinned on him the distinguished service medal.

General MacArthur also wears the Distinguished Cross, Purple Heart, and the Silver Star.

NEW FARM HEAD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. (AP)—The farm administration announced the appointment of A. E. Mercker of the bureau of agricultural economics as chief of the new potato control division.

REGIONAL FARM BUREAUS TO MEET AT LAGUNA BEACH

Farm bureaus of Southern California will hold their regional meeting Sept. 25 at the Las Onda cafe, Laguna Beach. The date was announced to the board of directors of the Orange county farm bureau here yesterday by R. J. McFadden, Placentia, state farm bureau delegate, said Roland D. Flaherty, secretary.

A statement from Mr. Flaherty's office said that this is expected to be an interesting meeting because the local board of directors today requested the tax committee to "bring in a recommendation looking toward the county farm bureau requesting the state farm bureau to adopt a position requesting that the state budget be balanced at the special session this winter, from reduction of expenditures and not from the development of new taxes."

George Henry Sauer, all-American fullback with Nebraska in 1933, is trying for a regular berth with the Green Bay Packers.

ENLISTMENTS FOR ARMY SERVICE IN U.S., HAWAII OPEN

Both service in the continental United States and Hawaii is open to young men who enlist in the United States army. It was explained today by Sergeant Michael J. Joyce, in charge of the recruiting office in room 207, postoffice building.

Sergeant Joyce is accepting applications for enlistments in the infantry, coast artillery, corps of engineers, medical and ordnance departments in Hawaii. Those desiring service on the continent will find vacancies in the 63rd coast artillery, anti-aircraft, at Fort McArthur, San Pedro, and in the third coast artillery at the same location. Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 35 years, single, of good character and without dependents, said Sergeant Joyce.

DERN TO SEE TOKYO ON FALL JOURNEY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. (AP)—Secretary Dern disclosed that he probably will visit Tokyo during his transpacific journey to represent President Roosevelt at the inauguration of The Philippine commonwealth on November 15.

Tentative plans are for the secretary of war to board a United States cruiser at San Francisco about October 1, stop three or four days at Hawaii, then proceed to Yokohama, the port for Tokyo.

COOL DRINKS FOR THOSE HOT DAYS

There'll be more hot days coming before the summer is over, and when they arrive, keep cool by preparing one of these delicious and easy drinks. Here's how to make them:

German Punch

One cup grape juice, chilled; one cup cider, chilled; one-half cup of strained lime juice (about seven limes); one-half cup sugar; two 12-ounce bottles gingerale, chilled.
Combine all ingredients. Serve over ice cubes. Makes nine drinks.

Pineappleade

One quart water; one cup granulated sugar; one cup lemon juice;
one number two tin pineapple juice; one cup orange juice.
Boil water and sugar three minutes. Cool, add all other juices and chill. Serve in tall glasses with cubes or chips of ice and a sprig of fresh mint. Makes eight drinks.

Lemon Special

Two-thirds cup granulated sugar; one pint water; one-third cup lemon juice; one teaspoon grated lemon rind; one pint bottle grape juice.
To make lemonade simmer sugar and water 10 minutes in enameled saucepan. Add lemon rind and juice and cool. Then chill. Serve with grape juice cubes frozen in refrigerator trays like ice cubes.
Makes eight drinks.

Beet Juice Cocktail

One and one-half cups juice saved from canned beets; one-half cup lemon juice; two tablespoons fine granulated sugar; one teaspoon salt; two cups water; dash cayenne pepper.
Combine and chill. Serve cold in cocktail glasses. Eight to 10 glasses.

Oriental Punch

One and one-half cups sugar;
three cups water; four whole cloves; one-half tablespoon of sliced preserved ginger; one cup lemon juice; one cup orange juice;
one drop oil of peppermint; mint leaves.

Simmer sugar, water, cloves and ginger five minutes. Strain and cool. There should be two and three-fourths cups syrup when cooled. Add fruit juices and peppermint. Let stand covered 30 minutes in refrigerator. Serve with ice cubes and garnish with fresh mint leaves. Six servings.

How Counties In State Got Their Names

The story of how California counties derived their names is an interesting part of the history of the Golden State. Believing that the thousands of tourists who annually motor over the state's great highway system would like to know how the counties they visit came by their names, Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly has had prepared this series of brief stories of the origin and meaning of the names of the counties of California, including a few salient facts about each county.

COLUSA COUNTY

Created Feb. 18, 1850. This is one of the 27 original counties of California. The name of this county in the original act of 1850 was spelled "Colusi", and oftentimes in newspapers was spelled
"Coluse", and was the name of an Indian tribe living on the west side of the Sacramento river. The exact meaning of the word is uncertain, although the late Hon.
John P. Irish, in a letter to Prentiss Maslin, offered a solution. He wrote:

"I note that you find no meaning or translation of the Indian word 'Colusa', the name of the tribe from which the county was named. The late General Will Green, who went there while the tribe still was a strong body and associated with them so much as to acquire a knowledge and quite free use of their language, told me that the word 'Colusa' means 'scratcher'. When a member of the tribe married, it was the privilege of the bride to begin the honeymoon by scratching her husband's face. The young women so uniformly availed themselves of this privilege that a newly married man always was known by the deep scratches upon his face inflicted by his wife. From this tribal custom the tribe was known as Colusa or the scratchers. General Green always was so correct in the knowledge he acquired and imparted as to such matters that I am very certain this is the exact and correct meaning of the word
'Colusa'."

For the last 80 years, Colusa county has made steady strides in stockraising, dairying, fruit and nut culture and general farming. Before gold was discovered in nearby counties, the section now known as Colusa was practically isolated, the census of 1850 reporting 115 residents. When a few of the other counties experienced an influx of fortune seekers, many saw possibilities in Colusa for growing wheat, barley and other grain products to feed the miners.
This was the beginning of progress.

In Colusa are thousands of acres of rich valley soil, the depth of which is almost unbelievable. Wells have been drilled to 300 feet without striking bedrock, and experts agree that probably a soil depth of 1000 to 1500 feet could be shown. Approximately 225,000 acres are devoted to almonds, deciduous and citrus fruits, alfalfa, wheat, barley, corn, beans, rice and melons alone, while 19,387 acres are rice fields and 11,000 acres given over to almonds. It is estimated Colusa has 240,800 head of cattle, sheep and hogs.
Population: 10,258. Area: 1140 square miles.

Veteran Dies in Florida Gale That His Dog Might Live

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 6. (P)— George Sherman, World war veteran, died in the hurricane Monday that his dog, a fuzzy little mongrel, might live.
When the storm broke Mr.
Sherman saw his dog caught in the maelstrom of a tidal wave. He plunged in and grabbed the pup.
Later, comrades found Mr.
Sherman's body. The grateful little dog was licking his dead master's hand.

MEXICO ANNOUNCES NEW RULINGS FOR CHURCH PROPERTY

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 6. (P)—A decree officially described as "reforming and clarifying" previous laws governing the nationalization of religious properties, has been made public.
In addition to reaffirming that all churches, schools, convents and religious buildings of all kinds are property of the nation, it provides that any building in which religious worship is habitually practiced or religious education provided shall be considered national property.
The decree also sets forth that any property or holding company

SHELBY, O., Sept. 6. (P)—
James Rex of Chicago returned to Shelby after an absence of 42 years.
"I want to find Joe Burrell," he said to a bystander.
"I am Joe Burrell," the man replied.
Rex and Burrell were boyhood ly or through other persons or organizations, belong to the nation.

SAVANT UNEARTHS GREEK TREASURES

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 6. (P)—A king's tomb of ancient Greece, unplundered and believed to contain valuable relics of Mycenaean culture, has been discovered by a Swedish expedition in the mountain of Argolis, east of Mycenae.
The expedition is headed by Professor Axel W. Persson, who excavated the famous Dendra tomb, which yielded gold and silver cups, bronze weapons and other relics dating back to 1350 B. C.
Like the Dendra tomb, the new discovery is of the beehive type.
It is located on a small mountain plateau near Berbati, in ancient Prosmyrna.

FLEET TO SHOOT
SAN PEDRO, Sept. 6. (P)—Gunnery target practice of the battle fleet will be held this month in the area some 40 to 60 miles off the coast by the battle fleet. Firing will be held September 9 to 16, and September 19 to 27.

AMELIA BACK IN L. A.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. (P)—Amelia Earhart, noted woman pilot, was back in Los Angeles today. Accompanied by her husband, George Palmer Putnam, and her technical adviser, Paul Mantz, Miss Earhart flew in yesterday after a leisurely trip from the east.

ALFONSO MEETS KAISER
DOORN, Netherlands, Sept. 6. (P)—Former King Alfonso of Spain called on former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany at the latter's home yesterday.

A HANDY AID
A handy aid to cleanliness is the use of pasteboard boxes (such as those which have contained cereals, crackers, or soap flakes), cut into pieces about three by four inches, for scraping bits of food from the sink. Keep a box of these sink cleaners on cleaners on hand.

FOR SCOURING PURPOSES
Milk bottle caps, rinsed in hot water and dropped into a small can or box on the drainboard of the sink, are a convenience for applying scouring powder to kitchen knives and forks.

MAILMEN NAME LEADER
CLEVELAND, Sept. 6. (P)—Edward J. Gainer, Muncie, Ind., was re-elected president of the National Association of Letter Carriers today, defeating Ferdinand L. Douglas, New York. John S. Foley, Boston, was re-elected vice president.

When the bristles of the carpet sweeper become soft from use, put a little common baking soda in some hot water, take the brush from the sweeper, dip it up and down in this solution and let dry in the sun.

JOB PLEAS POUR IN
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. (P)—Applications were pouring in today for new jobs on the Colorado river aqueduct project. F. E. Weymouth, general manager of the huge work, said 2,000 men would be added to the payroll within the next month.

WAR IN THE MOVIES

THE TOTAL result of the peace conference on the Ethiopian question, conforming to style in such cases, appears to consist of official announcement that the legalized murder of men, women and children will get underway in the African hills on schedule.

Thus assured that there will be no delay in the butchery, newsreel companies are hastening preparations to lay the red spectacle in the laps of some millions of comfortably seated Americans. This will be the first air-conditioned war in history, to say nothing of the first war in sound. That shows you how civilization has advanced since 1914.

Because, as a patron of movies, you are destined to be a much more intimate observer of this international crime than you were of the last one, you may possibly be interested in the manner in which pictures will serve you.

Not only will you hear the spat of the rifles, the crackle of machine guns and the booming of cannon, which you had to imagine between 1914 and 1918—unless you were acting for newsreels instead of observing them—but you will also be treated to the shrieks of the wounded, the groans of the dying and quite likely the thud of bayonets as they enter the stomachs of black and white men. Be sure to take the children along.

THESE pictures will be secured for your entertainment through an elaborate and expensive system of camera reporting, in the maintenance of which a certain number of American photographers, sound men and technicians, working for salary instead of medals, will die miserably of bullets and a variety of tropical ailments. Some will breathe gas in a fine spirit of democracy with the troops themselves, and turn green, and shrivel up in the dust like grass stalks when you spray them with acid. The less fortunate of these, perhaps, will be spared to come home and cough up their lungs with more leisure.

The Ethiopian assignment will be the hardest job ever dished out to the men who report news with the camera. Consequently, only the acings of the various services are being sent. Laurence Stallings, editor-in-chief of the Fox reel, who left one of his legs in the mud around Chateau Thierry and is thus thoroughly qualified in the art of combat, has already sailed for Djibouti, on the Gulf of Aden, in French Somaliland, where he will set up his headquarters. With him he has a small army of crank-turners.

Paramount recently scooped the field by getting a cameraman into Addis Ababa, where he filmed Haile Selassie in a meeting with his tribal chiefs. Another photographer is on his way to that city, and a third is in Eritrea to cover the Italian side of the conflict. Similar preparations are being made by the Universal and Hearst reels, as well as a number of European companies.

THESE camera crews are organized and equipped largely in the manner of military units. Discipline exerted by the commanders-in-chief is positive, and such will be the scramble to reach America first with authentic picture accounts of blood, battle and sudden death that a cameraman assigned to get the hand-to-hand stuff in the trenches will come back with his sequence or be killed in the effort—theoretically at least. In any event, he will likely find himself out of a job in the wrong part of the world.

Of course the boys will be given such protection as science can offer against science. The average unit will consist, in addition to the cameras and sound recording equipment, of an armored truck flashily decorated with large neutrality resolutions, duly signed by the President. The posters, it seems, are counted upon by the home office to win arguments with any shells that may fall in the neighborhood. These trucks also will carry their own arsenals of shotguns, rifles and pistols, for use in entertaining such African bandits as the crews may encounter in the peaceful pursuit of their work.

In any event, the red mess, which apparently is now beyond stopping, will be spread for your eyes with more fullness than for the eyes of the fighters themselves. And remember, it's always cool at the movies.

STAR CHAMBER SESSIONS

STAR CHAMBER sessions of public or quasi-public institutions are un-American. The Journal reporter who was excluded from a star chamber session of the Orange county farm bureau yesterday was right in insisting that he get the news first-hand instead of having it passed out to him in bits with the interpretation of the farm bureau secretary.

We suppose the farm bureau board has a right to transact business in private, but when its members are considering a matter so vital as the flood control program, in an effort to sway public sentiment in a certain direction, the public should know what is going on. There should be nothing secretive about the flood control bond issue. Its success will depend on every voter being "sold" on the idea that the plan is a practicable one and worth the millions taxpayers will be asked to vote for it.

The farm bureau sets itself up as representative of the farmers of Orange county. Naturally the farmers not privileged to attend are interested in what goes on at the board meetings. The farm bureau asks for lots of publicity, but it wants to say what kind of publicity it gets and does not want the newspapers to say what actually happens behind closed doors.

If the reporter, getting his news second hand, innocently misrepresents what took place—as was the case recently by reason of the secretary's mistake—he is blamed good and plenty by the men who were there. And who is there that complains more than the farm bureau member when he reads "supervisors hold star chamber session"?

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Thoughts while strolling: How many can spell cerebral hemorrhage offhand?

A description of the Normandie: A palace with the palsy. The veteran editor, John Phillips. First of the broad-and-mild dictators. Bluest of the masculine blue-eyed: Harry Bannister. Memory: Harry Lauder's pathetic sketch of the half-witted Scotch boy: I'm the Safest of the Family. Whatever became of J. P. McEvoy? Will Cuppy has a quick hiccup name, too. And Ruth a cinch face for the sculptors. Difficult to realize the boyish Alfred Vanderbilt is now the leading turfman.

The pinch hitter for magazine editors, Marion Gillespie. When a writer muffs an assignment they ring for her. The Indian phrase for clear water is a swell roll off his tongue. Kioh-muck-a-muck chuck chuck. A lot of authors are writing worse novels than Mary Pickford.

Slogan suggestions: "Share the thrill of others." Baby talk name: Ootie Oots of San Antonio. How many smarties know the present tense of the verb wrought? Nobody has filled Joseph Urban's shoes. For a dandy evening: A comfortable chair, a log fire and Opie Read discussing steamboat days.

Everybody that motors through Odd, W. Va., drops me a post card. But my favorite hick town is Hot Spot, Ky. Jolly Bill Steinke looks his monkey to a T. Rub Goldberg's sons have outgrown him, for goodness sake! Still another memory: The sticky door-knobs after a taffy pull.

From a cell in The Tombs: "I have come to the end of my rope but I have found a knot called hope."

There's an involuntary wince in passing that depressing gray pile that is the Tombs with its equally gloomy Bridge of Sighs over which jail-sweepings trickle to their doom from criminal courts. Especially at night when the bleakness is relieved only by one or two thin dridles of light. Often after midnight there jangles through the barred windows a shrieking blasphemy—like the eerie scream from a jungle. A soul in torment!

At the foot of a hill in Roslyn, L. I., is a serene colonial type of tea room with a Washington name and an early American decor. On the site Gen. Washington once breakfasted. I've often wondered the why of the charm of the Washington tea room. There are many in New York—France's Tavern for example—and dotting the New England countryside. I've never been disappointed in the food or service. Somehow all I have visited seem living up shinningly to a tradition.

The tea room is often looked upon as a sort of chintzy rendezvous where elderly ladies go for the surreptitious puff of a cigarette. The fact is, many experts of cuisine frequently prefer them when dining out. Helen Gould is a patron. Also Elsie De Wolfe, Ford Bond, Paul Whitman, Fritz Kreisler, Charles Hanson Towne, Amelia Earhart and—of all people—Robert L. Ripley. Most of these have dined in famous restaurants all over the world.

The majority of tea rooms have lost their prim prissiness since repeal. They have their "cute" semi-circular bars and wine cards as varied as in the bon ton places. And the food is different—the final metropolitan link gastronomically with that vague phenomenon known as "home cooking." The last stand of roly-polies and Brown Betties.

Fannie Hurst, thinner than ever, has returned from Hawaii where she was the reigning and feted celebrity for several weeks. There are rumors in the literary world that her next novel will have the island as background. Hawaii somehow has been neglected as a locale, although in the past few years it has become one of the most colorful watering places. Roving neck and neck with Monte Carlo and Palm Beach. Although a rigid quarantine of dogs has kept many away.

The customary morning hubbub in our block had a 5-year-old lost Henry as hero. He was found wandering along Third avenue by a colored janitor. The janitor took the lad with him on a chore before returning him to his parents an hour later. "I kept him with me so he wouldn't get lost worse," he explained.

OWL STARTS FOREST FIRE
NICE, France. (AP)—An owl by landing on a high tension wire set ablaze several hundred acres of pine forest in the Magnan valley. The bird's weight caused the wire to sag against another Spark, flying from the short circuit, ignited the dry underbrush. The owl was electrocuted.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Senator Joe Robinson's solemn announcement that he would seek a change in senate rules next session to put an end to one-man filibusters is one of the best jokes of the season.

Nothing will come of the threat—and no one knows that better than Joe. He also knows the reason why.

Joe and the rest of the southern senators are violently opposed to the enactment of an anti-lynching law. And the only thing that bars the way to the enactment of such a law is the power to talk it to death in the senate.

Once that right were done away with or restricted, an anti-lynching act would be inscribed on the statute books in short order.

A two-thirds vote is necessary to change a senate rule. So regardless of how they would like to jam a gag down Huey Long's tireless throat, the southern senators will never meddle with the rule of unlimited debate as long as they feel the way they do about a federal law on lynching.

SONG

MISSOURI'S Senator Clark and Interior Secretary Ickes once heartily disliked each other. One good thing the soviet embassy has done has been to dispel that antipathy.

Both were at the embassy seated with other guests after the cavir and vodka, listening to a soviet soprano who trilled in a way that hurt the ears of the senator from Missouri.

He glanced cautiously about the room, saw his enemy, Ickes, with arms folded and a scornful on his face. He, too, thoroughly disliked the song-bird.

Ickes turned his head at that moment, caught Clark's eye, turned away, then looked back and winked.

Clark, who was seated where his wife couldn't see him, winked back and grinned.

When the musicale was over, Clark went up to Ickes, who put out his hand.

"I'm glad to see we have mutual tastes in music," said the Senator from Missouri.

"Right!" said the Secretary of the Interior.

Since that time they have been warm friends.

SPANKED

ONLY a few insiders know how seriously the recent bill, strengthening and extending the powers of the TVA, clipped the critical claws of Comptroller General J. R. McCarl.

Under the original TVA act, he had authority to hold up contracting bids, audit accounts and file reports to congress without first giving the TVA an opportunity to see them.

McCarl, hostile to the great power project, used this authority to snipe at the TVA. He objected to bids, compiled a list of exceptions to expenditures—which mysteriously got into the hands of TVA foes before being sent to congress—and kept a staff of fifteen investigators in Knoxville at a cost of $75,000 a year—which the TVA had to pay.

The agents occupied themselves with counting the number of cows purchased to supply milk for TVA construction camps and how many workers paid admissions to TVA movie shows. On one occasion the agents by mistake counted the washers and filed a report charging the TVA with mismanagement.

The new statute puts an end to these tactics. McCarl is still empowered to audit TVA accounts.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

SEPT. 6, 1910

Ray Adkinson, the young 17-year-old son of W. E. Adkinson of Trabuco canyon, killed a five-point buck in the head of Clearwater canyon Friday, September 2. This deer is one of the best that has been killed in the old Saddleback mountains for several years. In the party with Ray were his father, Andrew Joplin and Lou Lawson. Russell, the 11-year-old brother of Ray, killed a nice spike the first of the season.

The Orange County Log Rolling and Picnic association, composed of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Royal Neighbors of America, had an all-day picnic in Birch park yesterday. H. C. Head and D. D. Burton were the principal speakers on the program.

RUSSIAN EXPERT

ROTUND ROBERT KELLY, ardent Russian-baiter and for ten years chief of the state department's "Russian division," has been trying desperately to visit Moscow.

The nearest he has ever been to the soviet capital was when he was military observer in Latvia, later consul in Calcutta.

He has advised his state department chiefs against Russian relations, and the fact that he has never been there has been a definite handicap.

So last summer, Kelley finally decided to visit the land on which he was supposed to be a specialist. But just as he was about to leave, came the impasse over debts, forcing him to cancel the trip.

This summer he again set out to learn something firsthand about Russia. This time came the crisis over propaganda. Again Kelley did not sail.

He was the original author of Roosevelt's stinging blast to the soviet. Wisely, he figured he would not be welcome in Moscow.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

WHEN Ambassador Bingham left for England he lent the yacht, Eala, to the department of commerce for $1 a year. Commerce now has put it in drydock for extensive repairs. It will be a new ship when Bingham gets it back.

The number of relief "clients" to be engaged in composing the Guide Book of America is 6,500. More than half will be "leg-men," digging up material; about 2,000 will do the actual writing. The book will be in five or six volumes.

A good weapon against starlings is a Roman candle, says the department of agriculture. If you want "to drive away the birds when their noise and filth become a nuisance," ... Cattle has been heard of the cattle slaughtered last summer and distributed in cans to persons on relief. But little has been said of the 100,000 goats. Since even relief clients prefer not to eat goat meat, it has been sent to needy Turtle Mountain Indians in South Dakota.

To four Indian reservations in the state, federal surplus relief has just shipped 300,000 pounds of canned beef stew and hamburger.

"Headed for a Hearse" is the title of a mystery story just out, from the pen of an Ickes ghost writer, Jonathan Latimer. He wrote it while employed in interior, just after writing "Murder in a Madhouse."

Many government workers tried to wrangle travel allowance to take them out of town over Labor day. They were refused.

YE DIARY

Thys day, Dame Juice's cousin Nellie and her husband from Orange a-visiting us, we do have an old-fashioned Sunday dinner; and I do carve the roast with vast skill and technique, albeit do nix the carving knife against the wire skewers that do hold the meat together, and Lord! why somebody does not invent an X-ray machine for detecting wire skewers in a roast. I know not if it would be, in all truth, a great boon to mankind.

We will now transfer you to the studios of the International Broadcasting company, where you will be entertained by a program of Patagonian static.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

The Beast Asserts Itself in a Mob

Lawlessness, in whatever form, is a menace to free government. Society cannot permit the flouting of the principles upon which its life depends. Winking at violence and excusing mob action on the plea that the objects of attack are dangerous characters is an open bid for further violence.

Lynching strikes not only at immediate victims. The objects of its fury, mangled flesh and spat blood, do not check the unleashed lust for vengeance. Dangling ropes and hissing bullets, smearing tar and clinging feathers, endanger and befoul the very pillars of decent living.

Every act of wanton lawlessness sends a thrill of horror through the sensitive nerves of the body politic. Every civilizing influence stands aghast at the bloody thrusts. The jungle beast is roaring its insane fury and up tossing its gnashing fangs. Thin-skinned civilization shudders in looking down at the slimy depths from which it so recently crawled.

Mobs have no sense. Their motions are blind. Their fury is without reason. They seek only to get an insatiable urge to destroy. Civilized men is not more than a few score generations removed from savagery. The cry of the wolf pack still rings in his ears. When restraints are loosened his biceps tighten with a clutch on the club and blood races through his veins with the madness of murder. He feels kinship with the saber-toothed tiger and the snarling, squirming creatures of the pit.

Civilization has always been walking on thin ice. It is in unstable equilibrium. A thrust this way or that may upset its balance. All the forces of sanity and poise are necessary to preserve it. Grasping hands seek to destroy it. Eternal vigilance is not only the price of liberty but also the price of safety, and of survival itself. Only in rigid adherence to law and order can decent society perform its functions. Mass vengeance cannot be tolerated.

Because certain individuals have run amuck and forfeited their place in society is no excuse for other individuals or groups of individuals to rush in and flout the precepts of law. That way lies disaster. What one group can do another may also do. Murderous lust grows by what it feeds upon. All of our pious good intentions will not erase the blots of recent barbarism. If so-called respectable persons engage in these riotings so much the worse. There can be no safety for anyone but in a strict observance of law and order. When officialdom condones or connives at bursts of violence we would do well to pause and consider whither we are going.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Went down to the ocean and couldn't get across, so turned around and fraternized with the Orange county peace officers, who assembled in Seal Beach for a regular meeting. Had been previously persuaded to mingle with the law enforcement group. Yielded to the temptation, lived through the ordeal, and was delivered to my own door in the original package by Sheriff Logan Jackson, after Coroner Earl Abbey surrendered his control to the president of the association.

Missed my old friend Gene Kahan, who used to take an active interest in peace officers' programs. The meetin' was held in the city hall, and the good dinner served by the Methodist ladies. You don't suppose that's the reason Gene wasn't there, do you?

Got an uneasy introduction. First thing that came under my observation was a generous sized board on which was displayed such a variety of revolvers, that I was afraid every second someone was going to say to me, "select your weapon." But when I discovered Dr. Roy Horton in the audience my pulsations resumed the even tenor of their way. I knew then it was a collection and not a challenge.

An interesting item in the proceedings was when Herman Zabel announced the treasurer had on hand $776.41. In this same connection the disappointment was that Herman was only reading the report for the financial agent. I intended to put up a ten dollar watch as collateral for a loan of $85. The absence of the treasurer forestalled this transaction.

A temporary disagreement occurred between Abbey and Zabel when the secretary juggled the pronunciation of Geo. Graupen-sperger's name. Abbey took issue with the extra syllable against Herman, and later on when Herman yielded to the corner's correction, darned if Abbey didn't slide over to the other side and insisted the pronunciation was like Zabel gave it in the first place. Those two fellows got along just like they were married.

About this time my restlessess, created by the liberal display of revolvers, began to reassert itself. The program was introduced by two girls singing pirate songs, appropriately dressed for the occasion. The hold-up of a gambling ship in the Seal Beach vicinity was not a soothing recollection. Then another little girl came out encased in a suit of long underwear—you know, the kind we used to wear back in loway—she carried a lighted candle and was en route to slumberland, but there were a lot of goblins to get rid of before she could go to sleep. Boy, if she had appealed to me for help I could have got rid of the candle, but I'm no good on goblins.

About this time Logan Jackson reported a proposed dance to be held at Newport Beach in the near future, the purpose being to raise some money for the organization, and give the boys an opportunity to dance with some other fellow's girl. My recollection is that the date is to be announced later.

President Jackson is impartial when it comes to introductions. He refused to differentiate between men and miniatures, so when he finished his presentation of Kauffman, Coroner Abbey gave Betten of the Betten Detective Agency, and Assistant Chief of Police Fink, he got down to my size. There was 100 people in the audience, and 99 of them laughed when it came my turn to be introduced. And was I disappointed. Thought it should have been unanimous.

There is a similarity about all organization meetings. Some fellow neglects to pay his dues. And another incident took place which is not uncommon. One of the guests lost five tickets, and the fellow who stolen 'em sat close to me.

The society reporter said to me if it was fifty years ago my story could have concluded with the statement "that a good time was had by all," but since the prospect of an Ethiopian war it would be more appropriate to say we had a 'l of a time. I wouldn't never make a society reporter. Don't trouble me with some other fellow's language, so go with the continue my association with peace officers who enforce the law with more forceful phraseology.

Along about 10 o'clock reached the front door, but it took both Sheriff and Mrs. Jackson to get me home. You can't never tell someone who you will come home with. Your company and your condition is important. My old head was clear as a bell, sang "there's a land that is fairer than day," and all's well with the world if you behave yourself.
